Lewis Must Retire On Age Unless Top UMW Aides Decide To Keep Him On

EXPECT ACTION TO BYPASS RULE ON RETIREMENT

By NORMAN WALKER

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—John L. Lewis must bow out as head of the United Mine Workers union one month from today unless his own top aides decide to keep him.

They probably will.

But a compulsory retirement proviso of the UMW's constitution could conceivably provide a challenge to Lewis' grip on union miners.

"Nothing To Say"

Lewis himself had "nothing to say" when confronted with the UMW constitutional clause saying that officers must retire on reaching their 70th birthday. The same constitution says the retirement shall be on a pension, but nobody would say how much that would be.

Lewis turns 70 on February 12. The clause which would make it possible for him to continue at the helm of the UMW after that date is one which specifies:

"Exceptions to this obligatory retirement age may be made by the international executive board if it finds it necessary to continue the services of an officer."

Always Agree With Lewis

The 32 members of the executive board, who get paid $12,000 a year plus expenses, invariably agree with Lewis. It is very likely will turn out that they "find it necessary to continue his services."

The same printed constitution, a booklet, also says that Lewis gets $50,000 a year salary, plus expenses, as UMW president. It provides that in case the office of president becomes vacant, the vice president succeeds. The UMW vice president now is Thomas Kennedy, one-time lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania.

If the UMW executive board has no other reason for keeping Lewis, one would be that the union is now in a climax stage of a seven-month fight against the coal industry for a new contract. Lewis has directed that scrap all the way.

His strategy has been to put every possible pressure on the coal operators to bow to union demands, yet maintain enough coal production to avoid White House use of the Taft-Hartley law's court action powers in national labor emergencies.

New Strategy Move

Another step in that strategy showed up yesterday when Lewis after letting nearly 70,000 miners in seven states remain completely idle since last week, ordered them back to work Monday.

A week earlier Lewis let 16,000 Illinois miners stay idle for a week

"TURKEY EGG" TRIAL GOES ON

Philadelphia, Jan. 12 (AP)—The turkey egg trial went into its fourth day today with the government scheduled to call more witnesses in an effort to prove a Lancaster (Pa.) county couple used the mails to defraud southern and southeastern poultry raisers.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Walter Gay, Jr., put 12 witnesses on the stand yesterday in the suit against John C. and Cora Faust operators of a turkey hatchery at Ephrata.

before ordering them back.

These strikes are all in addition to the three-day work week. This has brought (a) demands from Congress that President Truman step in to restore normal five-day production and (b) pleas from coal mine owners that the National Labor Relations Board do the same.

Robert N. Denham, the NLRB's general counsel, said it will be tomorrow at the earliest before he decides whether to seek a court injunction to restore full production, as the operators have asked.

Pa.

Gay questioned each of the 12 or records of sales of turkey eggs to the Pausts, including details of shipments, number of eggs, how many were cracked, how many were unfertilized and itemized receipts returned by the Pausts' Defense Attorney, Cornelius O'Brien, asked each witness if he knew of his own knowledge in what connection the eggs arrived. Each replied he did not.

Mrs. Annie Jones, San Saba, Tex., testified she believed the Faust reports of receipts were not correct but under cross examination she said she had no proof.

Another witness, Buck T. Roberts, San Saba, Tex., was taken all on the witness stand. He was excused by Judge Thomas J. Clary and was reported in good company at his hotel.

Harrisburg, Jan. 12 (AP)—Completion of a $1,383,000 building for old women mental patients at the Norristown State hospital was announced Wednesday. C. M. Woolworth, state property and supplies secretary, said the state welfare department already has started the job of transferring 330 patients from crowded older buildings to the new structure.

$250,000 SUIT FILED ON FILM

Philadelphia, Jan. 12 (AP)—A $250,000 damage suit against the producers of the motion picture, "The Big Wheel," has been filed by Bill Holland, winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile automobile race last year.

In the complaint filed in U. S. District court yesterday, Holland claimed the film is based on the actual 949 Memorial Day race. He claims he did not give the producers permission either to use his name or have any one impersonate him in the film.

In the film, Holland asserted "An actor impersonates himself as your plaintiff and is saved from defeat in the last lap by the hero of the play, portrayed by Mickey Rooney, only because of the breakdown of the hero's car."

The "false" representation that Holland, a native of Reading, Pa., won the 1949 race by a "hike" has done his professional reputation "considerable damage," Holland said.

Rooney and former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey are among five individuals named as defendants. The others are Alex G. Stiefel, Cheltenham, Pa., his brother, Samuel, Hollywood, Calif., and Harry M. Popkin, Hollywood. The Stiefel brothers, Popkin and Dempsey are partners in the film of Popkin, Stiefel, Dempsey productions.

Indict Pair For Shotgun Murder

Honesdale, Pa., Jan. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Bertha Lippert, 46, and Leo Corby, 18-year-old farmhand, have been indicted for murder in the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Lippert's husband December 6.

A Wayne county grand jury indicted the couple yesterday shortly after Judge C. C. Bodie had signed an order for exhuming Lippert's body Saturday.

Mrs. Lippert and Corby were arrested last week after state police and Sheriff Edward A. Reiter and that Lippert had been slain despite the fact a deputy coroner had termed the farmer's death "accidental."

Duff Reviews First Housing Subsidy Bids

Harrisburg, Jan. 12 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff today reviewed initial bids on his $15,000,000 housing subsidy program in advance of tomorrow's awards expected tomorrow.

Executive Director Francis A. Pitkin of the State Planning Board said gubernatorial ratification is needed for bids on projects in Johnstown, Altoona, Bethlehem, Butler and Erie.

"The planning board will meet tomorrow for final action on the bids," said Pitkin.

It was no secret that commonwealth officials had received the result of the bidding last week on the first five projects. One of the bids for 120 dwelling units at Bethlehem—valued at a nominal rental of as low as $38—was submitted by the Bethlehem Housing Authority.

New York, Jan. 12 (AP)—Gambling has popped up as a hot political and moral issue in New York state after Mayor William O'Dwiers proposed that betting on sports contests be legalized and supervised by the state.

Chances for adoption of the proposal were viewed as dim after state Capitol of Albany and several members of the Legislature expressed opposition to the measure.

NEW ADDITION IS BEING BUILT AT SILK PLANT

Work has been started on a new 50 by 100 foot addition to the plant of the Gettysburg Throwing company, Buford avenue, as a part of a large plant expansion program which includes the installation of 50 additional spinning machines and the removal of all line shafting and change-over to individual motors for each machine.

The new addition, of brick and steel, will provide 5,000 square feet of storage space for yarns, Robert E. Berkeimer, manager, said today. H. S. Beninger, Harrisburg, is general contractor and has charge of the erection of the steel, and the brick and concrete work will be done by McDermitt brothers, Gettysburg.

Some of the new spinning machinery is being moved into the old building now, Mr. Berkeimer said, and all the machinery is being rearranged. Swam Electric company of Hanover has charge of the electrical work and installation of new motors.

To Increase Force

New two-horsepower motors are being supplied for each individual machine, replacing the larger motors which were used to run the line shafts, some of which had run continuously 24 hours a day without a shutdown from August 1 until Christmas.

The plant has been operating with three shifts a day on an around the clock schedule seven days a week with 156 spinning machines. The 50 new machines will give the plant a total of 206 machines.

Foundations for the new storage building, south of, and adjoining the main plant, have been placed, and the concrete floor will be laid next. Steel is expected to arrive January 20 and the job is expected to be completed within a few weeks.

"The expansion program was made necessary by increased business," Mr. Berkeimer said. "For a long time we have been forced to turn down business because we could not handle it. The new equipment will enable us to expand and we expect to employ more help."

The plant now has 145 employees.

Burgess Cast In Cupid's Role

Burgess William G. Weaver was cast in the role of cupid or something similar to it today. Two German women, who would like to come to this country, wrote to the "burgomeister" of "Gettysburg" expressing the desire to correspond with male, single residents of Gettysburg, object, implied, at least, matrimony.

The letter was printed in German script. Through a somewhat sketchy interpretation of it, the burgess deduced that the two women think they would like the United States much better than Germany, and would like to come here.

Amelle Schmidt wrote that she is 48, and weighs 170 pounds. Margaret Lange is 45, and weighs 155 pounds. Both claim to be good cooks and housekeepers. They want to correspond with men who can understand German, since, they say, neither of them can read or speak English. They enclosed their photographs in the letter.

Burgess Weaver intends to obtain a more accurate translation of the letter. Candidates for the "friendship circle" may apply at the burgess's office.

ADAMS APPLE TRIPLES CROP ACREAGE IN '50

The Adams Apple Products corporation, Aspers, today announced that it is tripling its crop acreage for this year and that Earl H. Senesey, Westminster, Md., has been placed in charge of all "outdoor" operations of the company.

The new field supervisor was formerly in charge of the New Windsor plant of the B. F. Schriver company and prior to that held various posts in canneries along the Eastern shore of Maryland and in New York state. He has been in the processing business for 24 years.

Expand Facilities

Stanley Mann, of the Adams Apple corporation, also announced the appointment of Blaine W. "Bud" Hughes, of Darby, Pa., who will have charge of production at the plant. He has had 15 years of experience in processing including work with the Chalfont Canning company, Seabrook farms, Shoreland Freezers on the Eastern shore of Maryland, Chester Packing company and H. G. Cole company.

In addition to increasing its land acreage—more than 1,000 acres of sweet corn are being arranged for this year and other crops in proportion—the company is also increasing its facilities to handle the crops as they mature.

The number of pea vines at the Aspers plant will be increased from three to 12. The company will process two kinds of peas this year, sweet and Alaskan. Only sweet peas were processed last year. By utilizing the two types, the plant will have a longer season in which to (Please Turn to Page 2)

Take Part In Skit

Two Adams county girls, Kathleen Starner and Joann Blocher took part in a skit entitled "The Pennsylvania Dutch Treat" presented by a group from Adams and York counties at the Future Homemakers of America meeting held Thursday in connection with the farm show. The skit showed a Dutch restaurant with such Dutch dishes on the menu as schmitz un knepp, shoof fly pie and apfelstrudel.

Reports presented at various meetings held in connection with the farm show Thursday revealed among other things that the chestnuts are on their way back in Pennsylvania and that "it will be a tough year on the inefficient milk producer." D. R. D. Anthony, State College, was responsible for the first prediction and Dr. Kenneth Hood, of State College, for the report on dairy production.

A still bigger and better farm show in 1951 was promised by the Farm Show commission, which announced that a double anniversary will be held next year. The year will mark the 100th anniversary of the founding of the old State Fair, and the 35th anniversary of the Farm Show which started in 1917.

52 Men Feared Dead Aboard Rammed, Sunken British Sub

Chatham, Eng., Jan. 13 (AP)—Fifty-two men were feared dead aboard the rammed and sunken submarine Truculent today.

Divers and frogmen tapped out messages on the hull of the sunken undersea raider, but up to this afternoon apparently had received no response.

Vice Adm. G. B. Middleton of the Chatham Navy Yard posted a notice saying "great loss of life" is feared. Word from rescue craft at the scene indicated hope was fading swiftly for the men still believed to be aboard the submarine which went to the bottom of the Thames estuary last night after she was rammed by the iron-clad prow of a Swedish tanker.

"We have practically given up hope," an admiralty spokesman said after divers came up and reported they found no sign of life. Dusk was beginning to close in on the rescue operations.

Nine are known dead. Three of these were picked up last night after the collision and six more bodies were found today. Fifteen men were rescued.

In addition, all five men aboard a Lancaster rescue plane were killed early today in a takeoff crash at a Royal Air Force station in Scotland. The plane was to have picked up divers for the Chatham operation.

The submarine lay in silt about 42 feet below the surface at low tide. The ebbing tide had aided the divers in reaching the craft, which had gone down in water 54 feet deep.

Of the 76 aboard, 58 were sailors and 18 were dockmen sailing as part of the crew in a test cruise after refitting.

The Admiralty said the six bodies found today were discovered

HARLOW CITES SPORTS' GAINS AT GRID FEAST

"Two lessons can be gained from participation in athletics," Dick Harlow, advisory coach at Western Maryland college, Westminster, told members of the Gettysburg senior and junior high school football teams Thursday evening at a banquet tendered the players by the local Moose lodge at the Moose home on York street. Eighty persons were present.

"The first is the lesson of hard work," he said. "The first thing you learn is that while athletics provides you with an opportunity, you have to take advantage of the opportunity. You must get out there every day, and work to the best of your ability if you want to play, and if you want to be a star, you have to work harder than anyone else. Almost anyone is football material, or boxing material, or basketball material, or material for any other sport. It is simply a question of conscientious, intelligent, hard work. If you want to pay the price of hard work, you can become proficient in the game."

Fears "Easy Life"

"That is a lesson which needs to be learned not only by the high school football player, but by nations as well. Speaking seriously, the thing that frightens me most in our nation is the attitude, which is rapidly spreading, of taking things easy. I can understand the attitude, but it frightens me. The greatest empire the world ever knew, Rome, was powerful only as long as the Romans did their own fighting and their own work. But the Romans adopted the attitude of taking it easy. They hired other men to do their work and to do their fighting. As a result Rome fell."

"The second lesson is that of fair play. When you learn to accept the findings of an official as final, when you are willing to accept a non-partisan judge, then you have learned a great lesson. And it is a lesson that most nations must learn, if the world is to continue."

He urged the students to attend college, "but while you are there do (Please Turn to Page 4)

Two Truckers Fined; Left Motors Running

Parking their vehicles on Carlisle street this morning and leaving them with the motors running while they ate breakfast in a nearby restaurant, cost two truck drivers fines of $10 each and costs before Justice of the Peace John H. Base-hore.

Borough police arrested Ohmer G. Bagley, Atlanta, Ga. and James B. Darville, Hialeah, Fla. on the code charge, following receipt of a complaint from Mrs. George A. Miller, 12 Carlisle street, police said.

Police said the truck drivers were warned, and turned their motors off. Later police found them running again, and the men in the restaurant, according to the report.

Permission was granted the Gettysburg fire company to hold its bazaar in connection with the observance of the 87th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg at the recreation field June 30, and July 1, 3 and 4. DANIEL WIEST IS 82 TODAY

Daniel Wiest, part-time cashier at Mitchell's restaurant, Center square, today was observing his 82nd birthday. He was born on January 13, 1868 at East Berlin.

"The observance" was quiet, with no celebration planned, Mr. Wiest said. In fact, he said he had been "keeping it quiet. I don't like any fuss," he added.

Mr. Wiest lived at East Berlin until he was 19 years old, when he came to Gettysburg. He was employed for many years as a harness maker by "Bill" McSherry, who had a small shop where the National Garage is now located.

He "tended bar" at the Hotel Gettysburg for 21 years, was employed at Mitchell's for 15 years prior to his present employment, when the restaurant was operated by the late George F. Mitchell, and has been employed there "off and on" several times. He also worked for the Eagles lodge and at other places.

Mr. Wiest never married. He lives in the Epley apartments, 100 Chambersburg street. He has been employed at Mitchell's on a part time basis, evenings and mornings, for about three years.

Mr. Wiest has no formula for attaining relative old age. His father, he says, lived to be 88 and his mother was 74 at the time of her death.

DAMAGE TO CAR
The Nationalist shelling set off a fire in the hold. It was there that the most damage to cargo was done. The cargo in the hold is cotton, rubber and caustic soda.

While the 12 passengers and crew of 43 came through the baptism of fire without injury, a summing up of crew experiences shows there were some narrow escapes.

Captain Jones himself and Second Officer Frank Gross probably had the narrowest one. With fire practically encircling them, they heaved a bullet pierced drum of gasoline over the side. One spark and the drum would have exploded.

DR. SCHAEFFER PREACHES ON COMING REVIVAL

"The Coming Religious Revival" based on Psalm 85:6, "Will thou not revive us again: that the people may rejoice?" was the theme of the sermon by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Schaeffer, Philadelphia, for the fifth of the preaching mission services, Thursday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran church, sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium. In spite of the inclement weather, the auditorium was again almost filled.

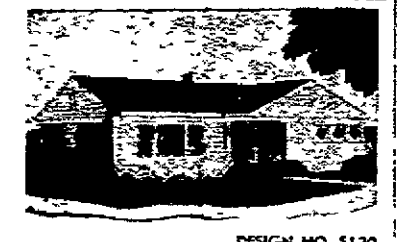

"Although there is more money in the churches today than ever before; more money expended for benevolence and overseas relief, and more money going into church buildings today than ever before, the church is not facing a revival, but a slump," Dr. Schaeffer said. He gave three reasons for current conditions. "The first reason," he said, "is nationalism. Ever since 1914, nationalism has acquired momentum until today it is one of the supreme issues of the world. Nationalism is not patriotism, but it is the undue exaltation of the state, making it the supreme entity in society. The second reason for the appalling situation in which the church finds itself is materialism," the speaker continued. "Too many people are putting things first. Gold is our God. Too many are seeking money, gold, goods and things. A third and a very powerful cause is humanism," he said. Humanism, he defined, "is making man the center of life. Everything that is done is for man—God and the things that belong to God are barred."

Revival Possible
After describing the reasons as to why a religious revival is necessary, he told his audience how to make this revival possible. "We must have a new conception of the church and of what church-going and church membership means," he said. "The church is the incarnated Christ. As the Father and Christ are one, so Christ and the church must be one. If we want Christ, we must have his church also."

Continuing he said: "We must have a new conception of the services and the sacraments of the church. We must be more earnest and passionate about the church. The enthusiasm and spirit that we find at a football game must be evidenced in the church. With the same zeal and enthusiasm we must hold the line for the church and fight her enemies."

Finally he said: "Personal Evangelism" is necessary. The members of the early church were witnesses. We must cultivate their zeal in winning others to Christ. Parents can't expect their children to be Christian, unless they themselves have taken the stand for Christ and reveal by their life that they belong to him. Let us pray for the coming revival."

The service was conducted by the Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church. Psalm 72 was read responsively and the Rev. Mr. James read the 12th chap-process the vegetable, Mann pointed out.

Plan New Products

Under present planning, the farmers will be able to get two ground crops per year from their fields supplying the four principal vegetables for processing, peas, lima beans, corn and tomatoes.

The company's success with canned tomatoes this year has led to the decision to produce canned, whole, hand-packed tomatoes as one of the major lines next year, Mann said. Previously the company has confined most of its tomato production to the making of tomato juice.

A new product put out this year is baked apples. Four are contained in a can and are electronically baked before processing. Mann said the product is finding a more rapid acceptance than had been anticipated.

John Funt Shoots "Cat" On Thursday

John Funt, Gettysburg R. 3, shot a small white animal in his father's barn shortly before 6 o'clock Thursday evening and he and his neighbors are undecided whether it is a cat or some other kind of an animal. It weighs nine and one-half pounds.

The animal, pure white, along with a mate, had been running wild around the Funt neighborhood for some time, always managing to elude capture or being shot until Thursday, when it was cornered in the Funt barn. Later it was removed to the George E. Coleman grocery, Biglerville road, where it attracted considerable attention. Funt says the mate is much larger.

Luther M. Slagle
Word has been received here of the death of Luther M. Slagle, 81, who died December 18 in Lynwood, Calif., from injuries received when struck by a car while crossing a street near his home on December 17.

Mr. Slagle was a former resident of Harney. He went west as a young man, residing first in Iowa and later in California. He was a retired business man and was widely-known as a club and community leader. Sixteen years ago he made his last visit to friends and relatives in this area.

Surviving are his widow; two children, Sydney Luther, Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Lucille Slagle Ming, Oceanside, Cal.; one sister, Mrs. Nettie Sell, West Haven, Conn.; formerly of Biglerville; two brothers, Murray, Hampstead, Md., and Nevins, York, Mrs. Willis Eckert, East Middle street, is a niece and Lester E. Staley, York street, is a nephew.

Bury George Morrison
Funeral services for George D. Morrison, 75, Hunterstown, who died at the Warner hospital Monday afternoon, were held Thursday afternoon from the Hunterstown Methodist church conducted by the Rev. Elmer R. Nunemaker. Interment in the Conewago Presbyterian cemetery.

The pallbearers were G. Ed. Taughinbaugh, Clair Tate, Myrle Little, Guy Little, Charles Matthews and Bern Criswell.

Mrs. Gertrude V. Lyons
Mrs. Gertrude V. Lyons, 77, formerly of Emmitsburg, died suddenly Tuesday night, at Frederick hospital. A daughter of the late Lewis and Martha Taylor Houck, she was a member of the Reformed church. Brief funeral services were conducted at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at the funeral home in Thurmont. Her pastor, the Rev. E. P. Welker, officiated. Interment in Blue Ridge cemetery, Thurmont.

James Milton Wetzel, of Orrtanna, had reason to feel grateful to his neighbors and other residents of Orrtanna and vicinity as he celebrated his 71st birthday January 8. Several months ago Mr. Wetzel underwent an operation for the amputation of one of his legs, between the knee and the hip. The operation was costly, and a new artificial leg an expensive proposition.

Several Orrtanna residents canvassed the town and collected money to present to Mr. Wetzel to purchase an artificial limb. The money was presented to Mr. Wetzel last Saturday, the day before his birthday.

The gesture of his neighbors and friends all but overwhelmed Mr. Wetzel. Unable to thank all of the donors personally, he asked The Gettysburg Times to extend his appreciation and thanks for the gift which again enables him to enjoy life to a fuller degree.

CHURCHILL TO LEAD FORCES IN NEW BATTLE

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
An atmosphere of nostalgic drama surrounds the marshalling of England's political forces for next month's general election.

That election will render an epochal decision—a point which this column made yesterday and now repeats for emphasis. It will determine whether the country shall give approval to its five-year experiment in Socialism and continue along the road into new fields, or whether it shall return to the capitalistic system under which it reached its peak of imperial greatness.

Britain is at the parting of the ways.

The Old War Horse
As a leading actor in this great drama Winston Churchill, his head unbowed by his 75 years, is rushing back from his winter vacation in the sunny island of Madeira to guide his conservative forces in what may be his last major political battle. Here is one of the greatest figures in the long history of England—statesman, literary giant, orator—the man who led the nation through "blood, toil, sweat and tears" to victory in the world conflict—an old war-horse charging headlong into the fray once more.

It is fitting that Churchill should play this role. Here we have the bluest blood of the nobility—a die-hard Tory who symbolizes England at the peak of her imperial greatness.

To his more elderly followers in particular, Churchill is a truly heroic figure who conjures up visions of the "good old days": the days when peace and contentment hovered over England's hedge-enclosed, green fields and sweet daisy-house flower gardens—the days when imperial power was at its peak.

Not A New Position
Churchill has charged the Socialists with throwing away that empire, and he would halt their nationalization program which to him is hateful and harmful. He would return to the days of private initiative.

That's not a new line for Churchill. I remember seeing him in action against socialist ideas as far back as 1924 when the late Ramsay MacDonald headed Britain's first Labor government. They mostly called them "Laborites" in those days rather than "Socialists."

Can't Turn Back The Clock
Churchill was more or less a lone-wolf in the Tory ranks, and he directed his paralyzing oratory over a wide field. One of his pet opponents was MacDonald, and I saw Churchill tongue-lash the Prime Minister until the latter literally slumped onto the middle of his spine in his seat, his face as red as a beet. In those days opponents didn't tangle with Winston in debate if they could help it.

So Churchill would re-establish the theories of private enterprise. He has promised to repeal the socialist Steel Nationalization bill; and not permit state ownership to go any further.

Whether Churchill would be able to achieve all his heart's desire if elected is perhaps open to doubt. One of the immutable laws of life is that you can't turn back the clock. And time has made in England's way of life many changes which can't be turned back.

REPORT MISSING GIRL IN PHILA.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13 (AP)—A West Philadelphia sandwich shop proprietor says he saw Marian Baker, 21-year-old Franklin and Marshall college stenographer who disappeared last Tuesday.

Mrs. Isabelle Anadio told police last night a young woman had visited her sandwich shop and in paying for her meal dropped a token issued by the Conestoga Transportation company of Lancaster, Pa.

The token reminded Mrs. Anadio of the Lancaster girl's disappearance and she telephoned police. Mrs. Anadio was shown a photograph of Miss Baker and identified her as the girl she had seen in her store.

Philadelphia police were alerted to be on the lookout for the missing stenographer who vanished after making a bank deposit and mailing a registered letter for the college.

Meanwhile, Lancaster police started a block-by-block search of that city and authorities in 13 nearby states continued their hunt for the girl.

News Briefs

Taipei, Formosa, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist defense ministry asserted tonight that a Russian advisory group was helping the Chinese Communists prepare for an assault on the Chusan Islands. These islands, 100 miles south of Shanghai and only seven miles off the coast, are the base for the recently stepped-up Nationalist air assaults on Shanghai. The Reds have failed in at least two previous attempts to capture them.

Hollywood, Jan. 13 (AP)—John M. Stahl, one of Hollywood's top producers and directors, died last night of a heart attack. The veteran director—he started in 1914—had been in Hollywood Presbyterian hospital since New Year's Day with a heart condition. He had also contracted pneumonia but had been believed improving when death came. He would have been 64 on January 21.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13 (AP)—The United States—not Europe—is the target of Russian aggression, Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak declared last night. "Stalin does not want to conquer Europe," the former Belgium premier told an "Education for Freedom" assembly held in Convention Hall as part of the Founder's Week program of the University of Pennsylvania. "If one day war must break out," he continued, "it will be because the Russians want Communism to reign over the world, and it is not in Europe that lies the solution of their problem, but here in the United States."

Turin, Italy, Jan. 13 (AP)—An Italian Court of Assizes was asked today to remove one of the obstacles to the prospective marriage of Swedish film star Ingrid Bergman and Italian director Roberto Rossellini. It heard a plea on behalf of Rossellini and his former wife, Marcella de Marchis, that a Vienna court decree annulling their marriage be recognized as valid in Italy.

NLRB Okays "Simon Legree" Act By Boss; Union Protests

By NORMAN WALKER
Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—An imitator of Simon Legree got his skit approved today by the National Labor Relations board.

It's okay, the board ruled, for a boss to dress up like the mustache-twirling villain of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and go around among employees playfully cracking a whip.

A CIO union, the textile workers, hailed Walter L. Berry, Jr., before the NLRB for doing just that. It was the day before an NLRB election at the Charroin Manufacturing company, which makes plastic aprons and table cloths at San Diego, Calif. The union argued that the Legree stuff was a reason why the union lost the election. The vote was 78 for and 184 against the union.

Berry, the company's manager, said he got the play-acting idea after the union put out a pamphlet "picturing me as a wolf with saliva flowing from my mouth, and he interpreted it to be Simon Legree."

MARKS HIS 25TH YEAR AT CHURCH

The Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church, Emmitsburg, has announced the first in a series of special services and events marking the 25th year of his ordination and present pastorate. Pastor Bower is in the midst of his 25th year both of his ordination to the ministry and of being the pastor of the Emmitsburg church. He was ordained at Frederick, by the Maryland synod of the United Lutheran church, May 27, 1925, and was officially installed as pastor of Elias church July 12, 1925.

The first of these series of services is announced for Sunday when all who have been united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Bower are invited to attend the services at 10:30 a. m. as honored guests. Pastor Bower will conduct the service and preach on the text, "There Was a Marriage." He has indicated that he will announce the names of the first people whom he united in marriage, the names of those whose wedding anniversary occurs nearest to January 15, the most recent marriage and other interesting announcements connected with the marriages.

Those who have received the sacrament of holy baptism and the rite of confirmation by Pastor Bower will be similarly recognized and honored at future services. There will also be a service in memory of those who have died. The dates for these services and other events have not been set but are planned to be held within the next months.

Over 100 Register For Night Classes

More than 100 registrations for the third annual Recreation Night school have been received so far, Paul Whitmoyer, recreation director, announced today.

Because of the necessity of arrangements must be made prior to mid-night Saturday, Whitmoyer said. Several of the classes are already nearly filled and registrations will be on a first come-first served basis, he added.

The classes will begin Monday evening, January 16, at 8 o'clock in the local high school and those attending will be directed immediately to the room where their course will be held. Payment of the registration fee will be made in the classes.

Among the courses offered are bridge, typing, shorthand, singing, photography, understanding the news, chess for beginners, drama, art, dancing for beginners, interpretation of the battle of Gettysburg, architecture, the Christian traditions, furniture refinishing and repair, driver education and interior decorating.

MINISTERIUM TO MEET

The monthly meeting of the Gettysburg Classis Ministerium of the Reformed church will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the Rev. J. H. Ehlers, Baltimore street, Hanover. The discussion of the afternoon will be in charge of the Rev. John C. Brumbaugh, Littlestown, on a topic of his own selection.

Dr. Morris Wee To Give Lectures Here

Announcement has been made that Dr. Morris Wee, president of Carthage college, Carthage, Ill., will present a series of lectures February 13, 14 and 15 in Brua chapel, college campus.

The series of lectures, each of which will be given at 11 a. m., will be in observance of the annual "Religion in Life Week"

The ancient Medes and Persians cultivated spinach.

So Berry went out and hired himself a costume, a big floppy hat, long frock coat, drooping moustache, boots. Yes, even a whip.

Another witness said: "Well, I was sitting at a machine and I heard a commotion, and the girls began to scream and laugh, and I looked and I saw Mr. Berry."

"He just simply went around and said, 'You must vote,' and he would crack the whip down on the table. That was the day before the election."

Next day, election day, the same thing. This time Berry had an office boy run along ahead of him and pretended to "hit his back while he was stooped over like a slave would."

"You gotta vote," was Berry's refrain during his Legree role.

The NLRB considered all this deadpan. Its ruling today said: "It was considered to be no more than a humorous incident in the course of an election campaign. In our opinion, the event has no such significance or effect that it can be said that governmental procedures were so unfavorably portrayed as to make a free and untrammelled election impossible."

Bullet Matmen, Frosh Cagers In Twin Bills Here Saturday; Varsity Quintet At Easton

Gettysburg college sports fans will be offered a wrestling twin bill here Saturday afternoon and a freshman basketball double-header in the evening.

At 2 o'clock the college freshman grapplers tangle with Mercersburg academy in their opening match of the season and it will be followed immediately by the varsity-Penn Military college meet.

Coach Clyde Cole today revealed the probable lineup for his yearling outfit as follows: 121, Don Woods, brother of Jimmy Woods of the varsity; 128, Richard Rabenstein, former Hanover high star; 136, Bob Moore; 145, Bob Miller, of Waynesboro; 155, Rice or Hoskins; 165, Jim Spangler, Bedford; 175, Al Hersberger, cousin of Bob Hersberger of the varsity, and heavyweight, Trout. Only Woods, Rabenstein, Spangler and Hersberger have had previous experience.

Varsity Meets PMC

Following the freshman engagement the varsity will go after its fourth win in five starts at the expense of PMC. Not much is known of the Cadets from Chester but they are expected to give the Bullets a stiff workout. Bob Hersberger has recovered from a shoulder muscle injury to give the locals full strength. Russ Reigle, 155, unbeaten ace for Gettysburg, will be after his 55th straight win which covers his prep and Pennington Prep records in addition to his collegiate performances.

On Saturday evening Johnny Yocissin's first and second string freshman basketball teams will meet Mercersburg academy, the first game starting at 7 o'clock. Mercersburg dished out a double setback to the Bullets last Saturday at Mercersburg.

Meet Leopards

Tornado Here For Big Tilt Tonight

Top game in the South Penn Basketball league tonight will be staged on the high school floor where the Warriors will entertain the undefeated Waynesboro quintet.

Extra bleachers have been installed for the game which is expected to attract the top crowd of the season.

Waynesboro's streak of nine in a row is a new record for the Tornado and for the first time in years the Franklin countians rank as the team to beat in the league race.

A win for Coach George Forney's locals would put them into a tie with Waynesboro for first place.

The Jayvee teams will clash in the preliminary game at 6:45 o'clock.

Sports Roundup

New York, Jan. 13 (AP)—The University of Virginia, which withdrew from the Southern Conference a few years ago in protest over the ill-fated Graham plan, likely will rejoin that group after the current fuss over the NCAA sanity code is settled. . . . Virginia has been making like a member in all the discussions and is appreciative of the solid support it has received. . . . But Cap Pritchett, the Cavalier athletic director, still winces every time somebody mentions a "fight" or wishes him good luck. . . . Another outcome of this furore is that the college presidents, who were criticized a few years ago for not taking more part in the athletic programs, will be very active in that line for a while. . . . For instance, it was the Louisiana State prexy, never known as a strong supporter of intercollegiate athletics, who insisted on "full publicity" for that 250-buck payment for Sugar Bowl expenses. Now the athletic dept. is hearing some repercussions and can only say: "Well, look at what the other schools did for their kids."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
Only about a half dozen coaches applied for the vacant Holy Cross football coaching job. . . . Penn State students, who open their first boxing season in 27 years without Leo Houck on deck, have designated tomorrow as "Leo Houck Night" in honor of the ailing veteran. . . . Only 15 National Hockey League players are eligible for the Calder trophy, outstanding rookie award, this season. Eleven of them are on the Boston and New York clubs.

The Palm Beach (formerly Goodall) round robin golf tournament has picked out a nice spot for itself this year. It will be played a week after the open and a week before the PGA.

DOT'S ALL BROTHERS

Coach Bob Grieve's Syracuse U. track athletes are doubling as carpenters, doing their own patchwork on the outdoor board track. . . . When the job is completed they'll all probably become hammer throwers for one toss. . . . Right after Bob Woodruff signed that profitable contract with Florida, Scoop Latimer checked in with this observation: "Woodruff has the seven-year hitch, but at $17,000 per, he won't have to scratch for a living."

MORE ARMS TO GO TO CHINESE

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—More trainloads of American-made tanks and other arms probably will soon be on the way to the Chinese Nationalist on Formosa.

Diplomatic authorities said that 300 tanks and armored cars being put aboard a Turkish freighter at Philadelphia represented only a part of the belated deliveries of orders the Nationalists placed in this country last year. They were paid for from the $125,000,000 Congress-authorized military aid to China.

Although President Truman has ruled out any further American military aid to keep Formosa from falling to the communists, the government has been helping speed the completion of orders already placed. The shipment at Philadelphia came from an Army Ordnance Depot at Lima, Ohio. Some earlier shipments went via U. S. Naval vessels.

Officials say there is no conflict between this action and Mr. Truman's thumbs down declaration of last week. The Nationalists already have title to the munitions now being shipped, having checked out the last of the $125,000,000 fund from the treasury months ago.

Most of it went to the Defense Department which either sold arms to the Chinese as surplus or advanced equipment which is to be replaced as new models are manufactured. The Chinese embassy declined to say how much arms-order remained to be dispatched.

JURY OF WOMEN ACQUITS PAIR

Media, Pa., Jan. 12 (AP)—A jury of 12 women—all mothers—Tuesday acquitted Nicholas D'Amore, 26, and his brother, John, 23, of the shotgun slaying of their father.

The jury deliberated two hours before it returned with the verdict which was greeted by an outburst of applause from many of the 300 spectators in the jammed court room.

After the verdict was returned, Albert Blumberg, defense attorney asked Judge William R. Toal of Delaware county court whether he could kiss the jurors.

"It's okay with the court," the judge replied.

Blumberg then kissed the women. Defense attorney had contended the brothers were temporarily insane in anger over beatings of their mother, allegedly administered by the slain man, Benjamin D'Amore.

The brothers had admitted the fatal shooting.

Poultry Pointers

BY FREDERICK BLOCK
Turkey Breeding And Debeaking Of Chickens

Turkeys should be kept separately until the mating season begins. Breeding males may be of any age, however well matured young toms usually give the best results. Under a normal breeding season without a spectacular success, but under sound management, you may expect 35-45 eggs a tom young turkey, and about 20 per cent less from yearling hens.

It is advisable to keep a few alternative toms, and they should be kept separately on account of their fighting spirit.

Artificial light stimulates the sexual maturity of birds of either sex. For high rating fertility of eggs it is necessary to turn lights on toms four weeks earlier than on hens, but the toms should not be added to the females before the first day of lights on hens.

It is extremely important that the hens are free from parasites which they frequently acquire from toms. Therefore check your toms carefully for lice and mites before you add them to the hen quarters.

Deworming before the breeding season begins is also a good practice. As mentioned in a previous Poultry Pointer, sodium fluoride mixed at the rate of one part to

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up early or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, impaction or dietary indiscretions.

Your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Electric debeaker: When you think it necessary to debark your laying chickens do not use a knife or similar tool, because excessive bleeding may follow this procedure. It is best to borrow or buy an electric debeaker which cauterizes the wound and stops bleeding immediately. Do not burn off more than three eighths of the upper beak. This is a humane method, because it is absolutely painless to the bird. Debeaked chickens should be fed poultry mash in containers, because they will have difficulty in picking up whole grain from the floor. If whole grain is to be fed it also should be placed in hoppers so that birds can eat with ease.

Turkeys should not be debeaked, the ring method proves satisfactory.

Morrisburg, Jan. 12 (AP)—The problem of how to get the Commonwealth's 6,000,000 church-goers to the polls came up for discussion Tuesday at a meeting of the Federated Legislative committee of Pennsylvania. The group's primary elections committee decided upon a campaign to arouse interest in the May 16 primary election when a check of voting records showed that only one church member in eight turned out for the last primary.

Long Distance is Faster Than the Low Road

If you really want to reach Scotland in a hurry—don't take the low road—telephone.

In fact, long distance telephone service is the quickest way to reach anywhere in the world, from the next town to the farthest continent.

Then, too, always reasonable, long distance rates are especially low after 6 P. M. and on Sundays.

So, whenever you have something to say to someone far away—say it best—say it quickest—and say it thrifly by long distance telephone.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Last Survivor Expires: In recent years all those who were on the roster 71 years ago when President Abraham Lincoln made his famous speech in the National cemetery, have passed away. Only one remained. She was Mrs. M. O. (Louisa Vandersloot) Smith, of Hanover, formerly of Gettysburg.

As the last survivor of those who participated in the dedication of the cemetery, Mrs. Smith enjoyed nation-wide fame. She was feted and honored by four presidents, the National GAR and other individuals and groups. She returned to Gettysburg every Memorial Day when a President of the United States came here to speak.

On December 28, while visiting her niece, Mrs. Charles Laing, of Charleston, W. Va., Mrs. Smith fell and fractured a hip. Her advanced age, 86 years and seven months, was a contributing factor in her vain fight to regain her health. Mrs. Smith died at the Laing home Monday night.

Young People Give Comedy: Before a large and appreciative audience, members of the Young People's council of the first district of the Adams County Council of Religious Education presented a three-act comedy, "Tea Toper Tavern," in the chapel of St. James Lutheran church Tuesday evening.

Taking part in the performance were Edna Mae Black, Mary Elizabeth Dougherty, Marion Sheely, Virginia Jones, William Kadel, Rodney Sachs, Raymond Menges, Robert Fischer, Fred Troxell, Janice Harbach, William Waters, Lois Kadel, Sarah Neely and Sarah Jane Sheffer.

Supervisors Meet Monday: The seventeenth annual meeting of the Adams county supervisors' association to be held at Xavier hall Monday morning and afternoon, has been announced by P. A. T. Bower, secretary.

John Knox, president, will call the meeting to order at 10 o'clock. The invocation will be given by Rev. Father Mark E. Stock, District Attorney John P. Butt and W. A. Mahone. H. A. Thompson and Clayton Starmer will address the meeting.

Mary Pickford Divorced From Doug: Los Angeles, Jan. 11—Hollywood's "ideal marriage," a union that bloomed for more than a decade amid the movie colony's numerous divorces, was ended Thursday in a court decree awarding Mary Pickford a divorce from Douglas Fairbanks. The hearing lasted only three minutes.

Memory of 23 Firemen To Be Paid Tribute: Twenty-three members of the Adams County Firemen's association, who died last year will be honored at the annual memorial service to be held by the Firemen's association at the New Oxford Lutheran church, Sunday afternoon, January 20, at 2 o'clock.

The principal speaker for the memorial service will be Dr. Leon C. Prince, a member of the state senate. Prothonotary S. L. Allison, president of the county Firemen's association, will preside. George D. Sheely will introduce Doctor Prince.

Firemen who will be memorialized include Charles K. Porry, Guy Macbeth, U. S. Kleinfelter, Vincent B. Orndorff, William A. Noel, Thomas McGaughy, George F. Jacobs, Roy McMaster, Michael K. Burgard, Preston Musselman, Charles E. Landis, J. Clayton Hoke, J. Harry Holtzworth, Harry P. Aumen, John D. Yantis, Thaddeus Wiernan, A. E. Miller, John Leonard, Dr. William R. Snyder, William M. Gilbert, Rodger J. Britcher, Clay A. Gain and Edward J. Sponseller.

Amelia Earhart Spans Pacific: Los Angeles, Jan. 14 (AP)—The conqueror of the Pacific ocean, Amelia Earhart Putnam, flew here Sunday from Oakland, California, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Amy O. Earhart.

Immediately after alighting Miss Earhart ordered that her plane be refueled and declared she would continue to Washington Sunday night.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
INTEREST IN DOING

All about us are spurs to our interest. On my way to work I stopped and watched a great shovel scooping up half a load of dirt for a deep foundation. Both machine and men worked in harmony. And back in a little room were other men studying the plans for the foundation and future structure.

I walk into the reading room of a great library and note hundreds of people silently reading—full of interest in what they are absorbing as they bend over their books. It is inspiring to see people interested in improving their minds, giving to them a broader knowledge of life and events.

It is always inspiring to watch anyone at work, where that person shows interest and enthusiasm in what is being done. There is a famous place in my city where nothing but omelettes are served, and it is a delight to see how they are made before your eyes! People flock to that place, largely I think, to see just how expertly that dish is prepared.

Do anything differently better, and people will hasten to see just how you do it. There is interest to the conception and creation of everything. Nature is filled with a multitude of unexplained wonders. From the seed, or nut in the ground, to the beautiful tree is all mystery, but every step reveals new interests. At a friend's home, a flower was pointed out to me that bloomed only during the night-time. I was intrigued, and sat and watched buds unfold.

There is no interest in static things. There is a thrill to things done. There is beauty to a single tool, but there is endless interest in what that tool does in some completed thing. There is no interest in an idler. An intriguing design to a book jacket is often the very thing that gives it a sale.

It's things to do that give growth and interest to a child. The more we put of ourselves into what we do, the greater is the interest that we acquire in what we do. Without interest in what we do, little, if anything, can be achieved.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Things That Stimulate."

Just Folks

THE HARD LIFE
The sister of a healthy boy
Has much to suffer and endure.
Her girlhood's not one round of joy.
Of safety she is never sure.

The little maiden fair and trim
That others proudly look upon,
A tackling dummy is to him
Which he can use to practice on.

She may be in her prettiest frock,
For Sunday school or party bound.
No matter! Round her waist he'll lock
His arms and toss her to the ground.

Security for her? Oh, no!
She risks disaster all day through.
I rather think she likes it though,
And doesn't mind a bump or two.

Betty Gow Tells of Finding Empty Crib: Flemington, N. J., Jan. 7 (AP)—Betty Gow, Scotch nursemaid, who ministered to the needs of the kidnapped and slain Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., today in court identified the undershirt which she put upon the baby which was found on the body.

"This is the exact little shirt I made for the baby that night," she said as Attorney General Wilentz, prosecuting Bruno Richard Hauptmann for murder, handed her a tiny, discolored garment.

Miss Gow spoke low in an accent and had to be asked to "speak up."

TWO EDUCATION PLANS AWAITING OK BY CONGRESS

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Jan. 12 (P) — President Truman has proposed two programs for helping education with government money. Neither can start unless Congress approves.
1. Under plan No. 1 the government would give the states about $300,000,000 a year to help them provide more and better education in the grammar and high schools.
With this money — which would go to the states — more teachers could be hired or teachers could be paid better to keep them teaching, or more and better school houses could be built.
This is the well-known federal aid to education plan. The Senate approved it in 1949, but not the House. This year the House also may approve. If so, plan No. 1 will begin.
Second Plan
2. Plan No. 2, less well-known than the other, would provide scholarships for students who have the ability and desire to go to college but can't afford it. How much would this cost?
About $100,000,000 a year, say government specialists now trying to work out details of the plan which the President can offer to Congress for action. Would that $100,000,000 provide scholarships for every student who had the ability and desire to go to college but couldn't afford it? No.

The specialists say it would give scholarships to perhaps 175,000 students. Does that cover all who might need such help? No, again say the specialists. Just a small percentage.
Idem Non Nov
This year Congress will be asked to vote $1,000,000 to lay the foundations for the plan. Once that's done, if it's done, then Congress will be asked to put it into operation with perhaps $100,000,000 a year.
This federal scholarship idea isn't new. Educators have discussed it for years. It was recommended in 1947 by the President's commission on higher education, a group of educators and distinguished citizens appointed by Mr. Truman to study college needs.
Opposing Views
Not all educators agree it's a good thing. Some of the opponents argue this way: Ambitious and needy students can still find ways of going through college. If the government pays the freight for them, they will get the notion we have a "welfare state." There's no reason why ordinary people should be taxed to give an education to those brighter than the rest of us. It might lead to federal control of schools.
Supporters of the plan put their views this way, in part: Government scholarships are necessary to equalize educational opportunities. There's little or no danger of federal control in such a program. The government

FARM CALENDAR

Save on Fuel—When all windows in the house are fitted with storm sash, there is a 20 per cent saving in fuel and a corresponding increase in the life of the heating units, reports C. G. Burress, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college. Storm windows keep the heat inside the house where it belongs.
Feed the Birds—During snowy weather be sure to fill all the bird-feeding stations every day. Our feathered friends appreciate this thoughtfulness.
Cut Fuelwood Now—This is a good time to start cutting the fuelwood you intend to burn a year from now. Heating value of the wood is increased by letting it dry for a year in a neat pile.
Feed the Ewes—A mixture of oats and corn, along with clover or alfalfa hay, will put most ewes in good condition for lambing.
Start Farm Accounts—Now is the time to start the 1950 farm account books, reminds E. L. Moffitt, extension farm management specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Farm accounts afford useful and informative records of expenses and right now is helping 67 land-grant colleges — state-supported schools — with more than $170,000,000 a year. The government has spent more than $3,500,000,000 on education for war veterans.

receipts, and measure the performance of each project in the farm enterprise.
Plan Dairy Chores—Do not overlook the little things in planning a systematic way to do the dairy barn chores, reminds C. N. Hall, Penn State extension dairy specialist. Even a small saving in steps and time will count up during the winter.
Watch Stored Apples—Growers who are keeping apples in common storage are urged to keep a watchful eye on each variety for signs of decay, shriveling and overmaturity.
Warm Farm Shop—If the farm shop is cold, Howard Bingham, Penn State extension agricultural engineer, suggests using an infra red or Thomas Cornell, Williamsport, Md., spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lightner.

Harrisburg, Jan. 12 (P) — More than 1,200 World War II draft board members in Pennsylvania have been canvassed on whether they would be willing to serve in an expanded Selective Service system.
"It is merely a preparedness move," said Henry M. Gross, state Selective Service director.

Penn-Harris Plans $2,000,000 Addition

Harrisburg, Jan. 12 (P) — The Penn Harris hotel, scene of many state conventions in Harrisburg, announced Wednesday that construction of an addition costing $2,000,000 will be started early this year.
The addition will include 290 bedrooms and expansion of exhibition and ballroom facilities. The Penn Harris, with the new addition, will have more than 600 bedrooms and banquet facilities for 1,800 persons.
There were 117 conventions in Harrisburg in 1949 and 87 already have been booked for 1950.
More than 36,000 acres of forest were planted in Great Britain in 1948.

DENHAM SPEECH TOUCHES OFF NLRB TENSION

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—It's a beauty, the explosion among the government officials who run the Taft-Hartley labor law.

On one side are the members of the National Labor Relations board (NLRB); on the other the chief attorney for the board.

The exploding was done last night by Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the NLRB which is supposed to be impartial in settling disputes between unions and employers.

In a New York speech he made a strong attack on the board. He accused a majority of the board members of favoring unions over employers.

In 1947, when the Republicans controlled Congress, they replaced the Wagner act with the Taft-Hartley act. T-H kept the NLRB. But the job of general counsel was created, independent of the board. This job Denham got. He was appointed by the President and approved by the Senate, just as the board members are.

Denham's job, under T-H was and is very important:

1. The NLRB can order an election among a firm's employees to determine whether they want a certain union to represent them. Then they turn over to Denham the job of seeing that the order is carried out. If for any reason he refuses, the board can order him to do it any way. Then he has to:

2. But—any time a union or an employer thinks the other side has violated the law by being unfair, the complaint goes to Denham, not the board.

If he decides the complaint isn't worthwhile, that ends it. His decision is final. The board can't consider the complaint. If he thinks the complaint has merit, then he can let the board hear it and give a decision. This gives Denham tremendous power.

There are now four board members: James Reynolds, John M. Houston, Chairman Paul M. Herzog, and Abe Murdock. All but Murdock were board members when there was still a Wagner act. Murdock was appointed after T-H. (There's a fifth position, not now filled.)

Relations Deteriorating

For months Denham's relations with the board members have been going down hill. His term ends in December, 1951. Informed people here doubt that President Truman, who wants T-H wiped out, will reappoint him.

In Congress there are several important bills to change T-H or wipe it out. These bills, even one supported by the backers of T-H, would wipe out Denham's job. But Congress has not passed any of them and is unlikely to this year.

Meanwhile, the question is: How can the NLRB operate now with such a split between the board members and their chief attorney?

ASK LEVEE BIDS

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 13 (AP)—The Army Engineers today sent out invitations for bids on construction of a flood wall and levee around South Williamsport, Pa. The bids will be opened here February 15. The South Williamsport project is the second of three flood control projects for the Williamsport area.

WOMAN BALKS AT BONUSES FOR COACHING STAFF

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 13 (AP)—The only woman on the New Castle school board is waging a fight to prevent payment of bonuses to the high school's football coaches.

"I think the coaches are paid enough already," Mrs. Elizabeth Kleckner said. "We should be thinking more about spending money to improve education in New Castle." Mrs. Kleckner's statement came after she balked at approving bonuses for Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and his staff.

The athletic committee of the school board recommended a $200 bonus for Bridenbaugh as a "gesture of appreciation." He's been football coach at the school since 1922 and his teams have lost only three of 34 games the past three seasons. In 1948 and 1949 his eleven won the class AA championship of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Football league.

"Need Better Schools"

The athletic committee suggested Bridenbaugh's three assistant coaches get a $150 bonus apiece. And it wanted the band director to receive the same amount with $100 to go to the faculty manager and equipment director. After Mrs. Kleckner's objection, the matter was tabled until next month.

Mrs. Kleckner told the board that athletics are a "sore spot with me," adding: "I am for athletics but not the way we do it here. They tell me the stadium and athletic costs come out of athletic game receipts but no one has ever broken them down to show me. What we need is better schools and less athletics."

"The schools in New Castle are in terrible condition. We need three new buildings immediately. The money shouldn't have been spent on the stadium in the first place. We have a perfect football field but our schools are far from perfect. I have six children who have attended the New Castle schools and I know what I'm talking about. We should de-emphasize our athletic program and emphasize our educational one."

Eberharter Name Won't Go In Again

Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—Rep. Herman P. Eberharter (D-Pa.), whose nomination for federal judge was opposed by the American Bar association, has asked President Truman not to submit his name to the Senate again.

After visiting Mr. Truman yesterday, Eberharter issued this statement: "I have reached this difficult decision by reason of the vicious, malicious and unfounded attacks made on me by large and selfish corporate interests."

Eberharter was named by President Truman last spring to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of U. S. District Judge R. M. Gibson in the western Pennsylvania district.

A Senate judiciary subcommittee took no action on the nomination after a number of sensational hearings at which Eberharter was accused of drunkenness and of otherwise being unfit.

Pottstown Blazes Cause Heavy Damage

Pottstown, Pa., Jan. 13 (AP)—Fires in the Hill school and in a fruit warehouse caused damage estimated at $60,000.

A blaze broke out last night in the auditorium of Memorial hall at the Hill school. Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer estimated the loss at $25,000. He said the fire started in the wall on the stage, apparently from defective wiring.

The fruit warehouse, owned by Walter Hampton, was destroyed by

NEW ADDITION IS BEING BUILT AT SILK PLANT

Work has been started on a new 50 by 100 foot addition to the plant of the Gettysburg Throwing Company, Buford avenue, as a part of a large plant expansion program which includes the installation of 50 additional spinning machines and the removal of all line shafting and change-over to individual motors for each machine.

The new addition, of brick and steel, will provide 5,000 square feet of storage space for yarns. Robert E. Berkheimer, manager, said today. H. S. Beninger, Harrisburg, is general contractor and has charge of the erection of the steel, and the brick and concrete work will be done by McDermitt brothers, Gettysburg.

Some of the new spinning machinery is being moved into the old building now. Mr. Berkheimer said, and all the machinery is being rearranged. Swam Electric company of Hanover has charge of the electrical work and installation of new motors.

To Increase Force

New two-horsepower motors are being supplied for each individual machine, replacing the larger motors which were used to run the line shafts, some of which had run continuously 24 hours a day without a shutdown from August 1 until Christmas.

The plant has been operating with three shifts a day on an around the clock schedule seven days a week with 156 spinning machines. The 50 new machines will give the plant a total of 206 machines.

Foundations for the new storage building, south of, and adjoining the main plant, have been placed, and the concrete floor will be laid next. Steel is expected to arrive January 20 and the job is expected to be completed within a few weeks.

"The expansion program was made necessary by increased business," Mr. Berkheimer said. "For a long time we have been forced to turn down business because we could not handle it. The new equipment will enable us to expand and we expect to employ more help."

The plant now has 145 employees.

Burgess Cast In Cupid's Role

Burgess William G. Weaver was cast in the role of cupid or something similar to it today. Two German women, who would like to come to this country, wrote to the "burgomeister" of "Gettysburg" expressing the desire to correspond with male, single residents of Gettysburg, object, implied, at least, matrimony.

The letter was printed in German script. Through a somewhat sketchy interpretation of it, the burgess deduced that the two women think they would like the United States much better than Germany, and would like to come here.

Annette Schmidt wrote that she is 48, and weighs 170 pounds. Margarethe Lange is 45, and weighs 155 pounds. Both claim to be good cooks and housekeepers. They want to correspond with men who can understand German, since, they say, neither of them can read or speak English. They enclosed their photographs in the letter.

Burgess Weaver intends to obtain a more accurate translation of the letter. Candidates for the "friendship circle" may apply at the burgess's office.

ADAMS APPLE TRIPLES CROP ACREAGE IN '50

The Adams Apple Products corporation, Aspers, today announced that it is tripling its crop acreage for this year and that Earl H. Senesey, Westminster, Md., has been placed in charge of all "outdoor" operations of the company.

The new field supervisor was formerly in charge of the New Windsor plant of the B. F. Schriver company and prior to that held various posts in canneries along the Eastern shore of Maryland and in New York state. He has been in the processing business since 1924.

Expand Facilities

Stanley Mann, of the Adams Apple corporation, also announced the appointment of Blaine W. "Bud" Hughes, of Darby, Pa., who will have charge of production at the plant. He has had 15 years of experience in processing including work with the Chalfont canning company, Seabrook farms, Shoreland Freezers on the Eastern shore of Maryland, Chester Packing company and H. G. Cole company.

In addition to increasing its land acreage—more than 1,000 acres of sweet corn are being arranged for this year and other crops in proportion—the company is also increasing its facilities to handle the crops as they mature.

The number of pea vines at the Aspers plant will be increased from three to 12. The company will process two kinds of peas this year, sweet and Alaska. Only sweet peas were processed last year. By utilizing the two types, the plant will have a longer season in which to (Please Turn to Page 2)

Reports presented at various meetings held in connection with the farm show Thursday revealed among other things that the chestnuts are on their way back in Pennsylvania and that "it will be a tough year on the inefficient milk producer." D. R. D. Anthony, State College, was responsible for the first prediction and Dr. Kenneth Hood, of State College, for the report on dairy production.

A still bigger and better farm show in 1951 was promised by the Farm Show commission, which announced that a double anniversary will be held next year. The year will mark the 100th anniversary of the founding of the old State Fair, and the 35th anniversary of the Farm Show which started in 1917.

52 Men Feared Dead Aboard Rammed, Sunken British Sub

Chatham, Eng., Jan. 13.—Fifty-two men were feared dead aboard the rammed and sunken submarine Truculent today.

Divers and frogmen tapped out messages on the hull of the sunken undersea raider, but up to this afternoon apparently had received no response.

Vice Adm. G. B. Middleton of the Chatham Navy Yard posted a notice saying "great loss of life" is feared.

Word from rescue craft at the scene indicated hope was fading swiftly for the men still believed to be aboard the submarine which went to the bottom of the Thames estuary last night after she was rammed by the iron-clad prow of a Swedish tanker.

"We have practically given up hope," an admiralty spokesman said after divers came up and reported they found no sign of life. Dust was beginning to clog in on the rescue operations.

Nine are known dead. Three of these were picked up last night after the collision and six more bodies were found today. Fifteen men were rescued.

In addition, all five men aboard a Lancaster rescue plane were killed early today in a takeoff crash at a Royal Air Force station in Scotland. The plane was to have picked up divers for the Chatham operation.

The submarine lay in silt about 42 feet below the surface at low tide. The ebbing tide had aided the divers in reaching the craft, which had gone down in water 54 feet deep.

Of the 76 aboard, 58 were sailors and 18 were dockmen sailing as part of the crew in a test cruise after refitting.

The Admiralty said the six bodies found today were discovered

HARLOW CITES SPORTS' GAINS AT GRID FEAST

"Two lessons can be gained from participation in athletics," Dick Harlow, advisory coach at Western Maryland college, Westminster, told members of the Gettysburg senior and junior high school football teams Thursday evening at a banquet tendered the players by the local Moose lodge at the Moose home on York street. Eighty persons were present.

"The first is the lesson of hard work," he said. "The first thing you learn is that while athletics provides you with an opportunity, you have to take advantage of the opportunity. You must get out there every day, and work to the best of your ability if you want to play, and if you want to be a star, you have to work harder than anyone else. Almost anyone is football material, or boxing material, or basketball material, or material for any other sport. It is simply a question of conscientious, intelligent, hard work. If you want to pay the price of hard work, you can become proficient in the game."

Fears "Easy Life"

"That is a lesson which needs to be learned not only by the high school football player, but by nations as well. Speaking seriously, the thing that frightens me most in our nation is the attitude, which is rapidly spreading, of taking things easy. I can understand the attitude, but it frightens me. The greatest empire the world ever knew, Rome, was powerful only as long as the Romans did their own fighting and their own work. But the Romans adopted the attitude of taking it easy. They hired other men to do their work and to do their fighting. As a result Rome fell."

"The second lesson is that of fair play. When you learn to accept the findings of an official as final, when you are willing to accept a non-partisan judge, then you have learned a great lesson. And it is a lesson that most nations must learn, if the world is to continue."

He urged the students to attend college, "but while you are there do (Please Turn to Page 4)

DANIEL WIEST IS 82 TODAY

Daniel Wiest, part-time cashier at Mitchell's restaurant, Center square, today was observing his 82nd birthday. He was born on January 13, 1868 at East Berlin.

The "observance" was quiet, with no celebration planned. Mr. Wiest said. In fact, he said he had been "keeping it quiet. I don't like any fuss," he added.

Mr. Wiest lived at East Berlin until he was 19 years old, when he came to Gettysburg. He was employed for many years as a harness maker by "Bill" McSherry, who had a small shop where the National Garage is now located.

He "tended bar" at the Hotel Gettysburg for 21 years, was employed at Mitchell's for 15 years prior to his present employment, when the restaurant was operated by the late George F. Mitchell, and has been employed there "off and on" several times. He also worked for the Eagles lodge and at other places.

Mr. Wiest never married. He lives in the Epley apartments, 100 Chambersburg street. He has been employed at Mitchell's on a part time basis, evenings and mornings, for about three years.

Mr. Wiest has no formula for attaining relative old age. His father, he says, lived to be 83 and his mother was 74 at the time of her death.

Acheson Reports Russia Carving Up China; Renews Policy Defense Today

FACES SENATE GROUP BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson, after reporting that Russia is gobbling up big chunks of China, today waded into the fourth straight day of his defense of administration foreign policy.

He faced the Senate Foreign Relations committee to answer behind closed doors another round of questions dealing mainly with the United States government's position in Formosa and elsewhere in the troubled Far East.

Before Acheson reached Capitol Hill, some Republicans renewed their moves to get a review of the Pacific strategic situation from the military leaders.

Asks For Chiefs Of Staff
A Republican committee member said Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) will be asked formally during the day to summon Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

A report to the House Foreign Affairs committee from an aide on its staff says the Chinese Nationalists might be able to hold out on the island of Formosa six to 18 months without U.S. help.

The report, by C. B. Marshall, former Harvard instructor, makes no specific recommendation as to whether the U.S. should give or deny military aid.

Acheson said in a talk at the National Press club yesterday that the most important development in the Orient is the Russian seizure of Northern areas of China.

A salient part of his speech follows: "What is happening in China is that the Soviet Union is detaching the northern areas of China from China and is attaching them to the Soviet Union."

"This process is complete in outer Mongolia. It is nearly complete in Manchuria and I am sure that in inner Mongolia and in Sinkiang, there are very happy reports coming from Soviet agents to Moscow."

"I should like to suggest at any rate that this fact that the Soviet Union is taking the four northern provinces of China is the single most significant, most important fact in the relation of any foreign power with Asia. We must not undertake to defect from the Russians to ourselves the righteous anger and the wrath and the hatred of the Chinese people which must develop."

"We must take the position we

CRUCIAL VOTES BY N C A A SATURDAY

New York, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Citadel has bolted, Virginia is on the verge of a break and a solid southern bloc threatened to drive a final, fatal wedge today into the National Collegiate Athletic association.

Breathing brimstone and confidence, Dixie delegates dared the NCCA, in effect, to kick out four of their neighbors accused of open violations of the sanity code.

"They can't expel them," predicted Robert R. Neyland, coach and athletic director at Tennessee. "It won't even be a fight."

The convention votes tomorrow on whether Virginia, Virginia Tech, VMI, the Citadel and three unnamed institutions should be expelled for failure to conform with the two-year-old code. It takes a two-third majority of those present to do the trick.

Members of the Southern, Southeastern and Southwest conferences lined up yesterday behind the sinners and announced they would use all their votes and influence to prevent their expulsion.

COURT DECIDES OLD QUESTION ON QUOTA LAW

Harrisburg, Jan. 13 (AP)—A court decision gave the Liquor Control board clearly defined power today to apply the license quota law to have always taken that anyone who violates the integrity of China is the enemy of China and is acting contrary to our own interest. That x x x is the first and the greatest rule in regard to the formulation of American policy toward Asia."

The call to get expert military advice from Secretary Johnson and General Bradley has been sounded most insistently by Senator Knowland (R-Calif.). He wants their views on the strategic value of Formosa—if any—in America's Pacific defense. It is the last retreat of the Chinese Nationalist government, driven off the mainland by conquering Chinese Communist armies.

Knowland, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and others want to know whether President Truman acted on the advice of his military chiefs when he announced his hands-off Formosa policy. The President said last week this country will not give military aid to the defenders of Formosa.

private clubs throughout Pennsylvania.

A ruling by the State Supreme court ended a 10-year controversy as to whether clubs were included or exempt from the 1939 act limiting retail licenses, except hotels, to one for each 1,000 population.

The Liquor Control board ruled, when the law became effective, that clubs were included in the quota law. Some county courts on appeals agreed with the board, others took the opposite stand. The Superior court ruling decided the question on a state-wide basis.

What It Means
The board, until 1949, had been unable to obtain a state-wide decision because it lacked authority to appeal decisions of county courts. The question provoked heated debates in the Legislature. The Assembly finally, at the last session, granted the board the right to appeal.

"The decision, on a whole," said David R. Perry, member of the board, "means that all county courts will be required to refuse licenses to clubs, on appeal, if the quota is exceeded in their county."

He said the ruling will not affect clubs now holding licenses but that future licenses would be refused to clubs where the quota is exceeded in that community.

Never Ruled On In Adams
"We're very much pleased because it (the decision) settles a question in which the courts have not been in accord for a number of years," commented Deputy General Horace A. Segelbaum, assigned to the Liquor Control board. "We now will have the uniformity in enforcing the law that we've sought for many years."

The decision will have an immediate effect in 19 counties. County courts ruled that clubs were exempt from the quota law in Armstrong, Berks, Cameron, Cambria, Clinton, Elk, Forest, Greene, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Lebanon, Montour, Northampton, Schuylkill, Somerset, Warren, Washington, and Westmoreland counties. The issue was never decided in Adams, Centre, Clarion, Fulton, Juniata, Perry, Potter, Tioga and Union counties.

ASK GOP COMPROMISE

Tunkhannock, Pa., Jan. 13 (AP)—Republican chairmen from seven northeastern counties are demanding the state committee work out a compromise ticket agreeable to all factions "which will assure a successful campaign at the general election." State GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor told the group at a meeting yesterday he "feels certain" harmony within the party will be restored before the May primary.

Plan New Products
Under present planning, the farmers will be able to get two ground crops per year from their fields supplying the four principal vegetables for processing, peas, lima beans, corn and tomatoes.

The company's success with canned tomatoes this year has led to the decision to produce canned, whole, hand-packed tomatoes as one of the major lines next year, Mann said. Previously the company has confined most of its tomato production to the making of tomato juice.

A new product put out this year is baked apples. Four are contained in a can and are electrically baked before processing. Mann said the product is finding a more rapid acceptance than has been anticipated.

CHURCHILL TO LEAD FORCES IN NEW BATTLE

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
An atmosphere of nostalgic drama surrounds the marshaling of England's political forces for next month's general election.

That election will render an epochal decision—a point which this column made yesterday and now repeats for emphasis. It will determine whether the country shall give approval to its five-year experiment in Socialism and continue along the road into new fields, or whether it shall return to the capitalist system under which it reached its peak of imperial greatness.

Britain is at the parting of the ways.

The Old War Horse
As a leading actor in this great drama Winston Churchill, his head unbowed by his 75 years, is rushing back from his winter vacation in the sunny island of Madeira to guide his conservative forces in what may be his last major political battle. Here is one of the greatest figures in the long history of England—statesman, literary giant, orator—the man who led the nation through "blood, toil, sweat and tears" to victory in the world conflict—an old war-horse charging headlong into the fray once more.

It is fitting that Churchill should play this role. Here we have the bluest blood of the nobility—a die-hard Tory who symbolizes England at the peak of her imperial greatness.

To his more elderly followers in particular, Churchill is a truly heroic figure who conjures up visions of the "good old days," the days when peace and contentment hovered over England's hedgerow, green fields and sweet, doll-house flower gardens—the days when imperial power was at its peak.

DEATHS

Luther M. Slagle
Word has been received here of the death of Luther M. Slagle, 81, who died December 18 in Lynwood, Calif., from injuries received when struck by a car while crossing a street near his home on December 17.

Mr. Slagle was a former resident of Harney. He went west as a young man, residing first in Iowa and later in California. He was a retired business man and was widely-known as a club and community leader. Sixteen years ago he made his last visit to friends and relatives in this area.

Surviving are his widow; two children, Sydney Luther, Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Lucille Slagle Ming, Oceanside, Cal.; one sister, Mrs. Nettie Sell, West Haven, Conn.; formerly of Biglerville; two brothers, Murray, Hampstead, Md., and Nevin, York; Mrs. Willis Eckert, East Middle street, is a niece and Lester E. Staley, York street, is a nephew.

Bury George Morrison
Funeral services for George D. Morrison, 75, Hunterstown, who died at the Warner hospital Monday afternoon, were held Thursday afternoon from the Hunterstown Methodist church conducted by the Rev. Elmer R. Nunemaker. Interment in the Conewago Presbyterian cemetery.

The pallbearers were G. Ed. Taughnbaugh, Clair Tate, Myrle Little, Guy Little, Charles Matthews and Bern Criswell.

Mrs. Gertrude V. Lyons
Mrs. Gertrude V. Lyons, 77, formerly of Emmittsburg, died suddenly Tuesday night, at Frederick hospital. A daughter of the late Lewis and Martha Taylor Houck, she was a member of the Reformed church. Brief funeral services were conducted at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at the funeral home in Thurmont. Her pastor, the Rev. E. P. Welker, officiated. Interment in Blue Ridge cemetery, Thurmont.

James Milton Wetzel, of Ottanna, had reason to feel grateful to his neighbors and other residents of Ottanna and vicinity as he celebrated his 71st birthday January 8.

Several months ago Mr. Wetzel underwent an operation for the amputation of one of his legs, between the knee and the hip. The operation was costly, and a new artificial leg an expensive proposition.

Several Ottanna residents canvassed the town and collected money to present to Mr. Wetzel to purchase an artificial limb. The money was presented to Mr. Wetzel last Saturday, the day before his birthday.

The gesture of his neighbors and friends all but overwhelmed Mr. Wetzel. Unable to thank all of the donors personally, he asked The Gettysburg Times to extend his appreciation and thanks for the gift, which again enables him to enjoy life to a fuller degree.

REPORT MISSING GIRL IN PHILA.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13 (AP)—A West Philadelphia sandwich shop proprietor says he saw Marian Baker, 21-year-old Franklin and Marshall college stenographer who disappeared last Tuesday.

Mrs. Isabelle Anadio told police last night a young woman had visited her sandwich shop and in paying for her meal dropped a token issued by the Conestoga Transportation company of Lancaster, Pa.

The token reminded Mrs. Anadio of the Lancaster girl's disappearance and she telephoned police. Mrs. Anadio was shown a photograph of Miss Baker and identified her as the girl she had seen in her store.

Philadelphia police were alerted to be on the lookout for the missing stenographer who vanished after making a bank deposit and mailing a registered letter for the college.

Meanwhile, Lancaster police started a block-by-block search of that city and authorities in 13 nearby states continued their hunt for the girl.

Taipei, Formosa, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist defense ministry asserted tonight that a Russian advisory group was helping the Chinese Communists prepare for an assault on the Chusan Islands. The Reds have failed in at least two previous attempts to capture them.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13 (AP)—The United States—not Europe—is the target of Russian aggression, Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak declared last night. NLRB Okays "Simon Legree" Act By Boss; Union Protests

By NORMAN WALKER
Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—An imitator of Simon Legree got his skirt approved today by the National Labor Relations board.

It's okay, the board ruled, for a boss to dress up like the mustache-twirling villain of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and go around among employees playfully cracking a whip.

A CIO union, the textile workers, hailed Walter L. Berry, Jr., before the NLRB for doing just that.

It was the day before an NLRB election at the Charroin Manufacturing company, which makes plastic aprons and table cloths at San Diego, Calif. The union argued that the Legree stuff was a reason why the union lost the election. The vote was 78 for and 184 against the union.

Berry, the company's manager, said he got the play-acting idea after the union put out a pamphlet "picturing me as a wolf with saliva flowing from my mouth, and he interpreted it to be Simon Legree."

"We thought perhaps it was time to have a good laugh just as personal retaliation to the union for having pictured me that way," Berry testified in the ease.

"I thought I would show the peo-

By JOHN DEITRIK
Harrisburg, Jan. 13 (AP)—Jimmy Dick, 13-year-old Luzerne county farm boy, and his grand champion baby beef, were the toast of the State Farm show today.

But Jimmy was far from happy. For today, Jimmy and his prize-winning Aberdeen-Angus steer came to a parting of the ways. The animal, along with more than 100 other baby beef steers, goes on the Farm show auction block in the final day of the show.

Jimmy and his baby beef steer, "Pet" carried off the coveted grand championship award in 4-H competition late yesterday. Reserve honors went to Herbert Martin, 15, of Lancaster R. 8, who exhibited an 1140-pound Hereford steer, named "Reddy."

"Hate to Give Him Up"

Jimmy, who hails from Sybertsville, is a 9th grade student at D. A. Harmon Junior high in Hazleton. This year was his first appearance in Farm show competition, but Jimmy handled himself like a veteran in the judging ring. "Pet" was inclined to be a little frisky yesterday while judges poked and prodded him, but Jimmy kept the 1,095-pound animal well under control.

When asked how it felt to be the winner of the most coveted 4-H Farm show award, Jimmy replied: "It feels pretty good. I put a lot of hard work into raising Pet." Jimmy added, however, that "I'm sure going to hate to give him up."

Veteran baby beef judge, P. C. Mackenzie, termed young Dick's animal, "a top steer." And Mackenzie should know; he has been judging in the show since it first opened 34 years ago. Mackenzie is livestock superintendent at the Pennsylvania State college.

Show Ends Today
"He is a very good Angus type," Mackenzie declared, "very well fleshed from front to rear. I haven't seen any better."

The five-day Farm show ends its 1950 run today with show officials hopeful of a new attendance record. Some 485,000 visitors toured the exposition during the first four days. If the 100,000 mark is reached today the 1950 show will top the previous high attendance record of 580,000 set last year.

Jacob and James Warner, brothers, of Pocono Lake, Monroe county, captured the state log-sawing championship by last night edging out their father and uncle, Robert Warner and William Woodrick, also of Pocono Lake. The Warner boys, 1949 winners, ripped through a 20-inch oak log in 46.2 seconds—six seconds under their elders.

Harold Clippinger, of near Carlisle, tossed his way to the state horseshoe pitching contest by ringing away two straight games from one-armed Ken Burris, of Bellefonte, 50-34 and 55-46.

What Can Fill The Elm's Role?

In less than two decades the Dutch elm disease has destroyed hundreds of thousands of fine elm shade trees throughout the Middle Atlantic states and as far west as Indiana. Despite quarantine and other protective barriers, the disease spreads on and on, virtually spelling extinction for what many persons consider the finest of all shade trees. Can owners expect control in the future? Is the elm actually doomed? What tree is best suited to take the elm's place?

First, it is advisable to face the problem frankly. Not only is the Dutch elm disease spreading on the wings of bark beetles, but a second, and in some communities a more dangerous disease, known as phloem necrosis, is killing elm trees even before the older peril can fasten its tentacles. So rapidly has this new threat moved in, that authorities are not yet agreed on how it is transmitted.

Next, shade tree owners have little sound foundation on which to build plans for protecting their elms by use of insecticides or by present quarantine measures. Reports circulated widely last summer that tests made in Connecticut showed DDT effective for controlling the beetles which carry Dutch elm infection. Yet, the public is already aware that within a few years certain apple and citrus fruit insects have developed amazing immunity against this over-publicized insecticide. Therefore it is indeed frail dependence to rest our elms' future safety on so fragile a weapon.

Certain it is that tree owners need look no further than the government's futile efforts to quarantine the European corn borer or the Japanese beetle to realize there is little safety from this costly measure. The best that can be expected is a slower spread. The ultimate result remains the same—destruction of elm trees wherever the beetle can live.

Obviously prospective growers and present elm owners should consider other genera and species of trees. But this suggestion logically brings many difficult questions with it. It goes without saying that persons who have long lived with and enjoyed our stately elms will not soon become reconciled to what they deem greatly inferior trees. Of course, no other tree can fully fill the elm's role. If such were possible, the elm would not have attained its present or past positions of superiority.

But in the face of the present dual crisis it is necessary that choices be made. Among trees worth consideration are the hardy oaks, particularly pin and red oaks and several varieties. No serious diseases or insect enemies appear on the shade tree horizon to threaten these trees.

Likewise the maples merit investigation, for considerable hardiness as well as beauty. The Norway and sugar species are among the more desirable sorts.

Beeches should be grown more widely than they are. The same is true of ash, hackberry, and so-called Goldenrain tree.

Sweet gum (Liquidambar styraciflua) occupies an enviable role of combining hardiness with outstanding beauty among trees widely overlooked.

Black walnut, the unique ginkgo, birch, and willows should be added to the list of trees fairly immune to serious diseases and insects and possessing merits to take the place of elms as long-living, beautiful trees.

Moose population in Alaska is about 30,000.

TALKS ON POTOMAC BASIN

Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—Full-scale development of the Potomac River basin, rather than sectional programs, is urged by Frederick

Gutheim, author of "The Potomac."

A resident of this area since 1908, the writer told the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River basin last night it should function as the central planning agency for the region. No "great" legal changes would be required for this, he said.

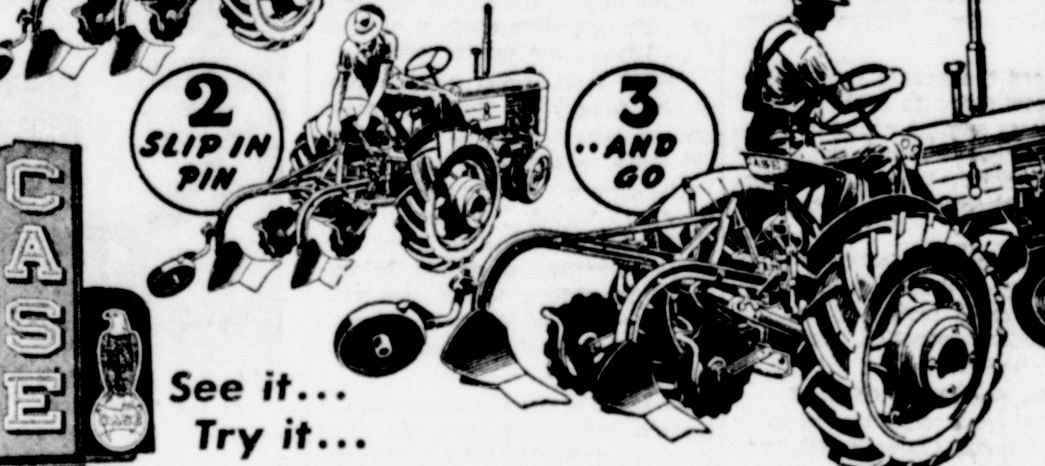

Insecticides that will kill rat fleas are a valuable weapon against plague.

SEE IT! NOW ON DISPLAY!

One Minute TO PUT ON IMPLEMENTS

NEW EAGLE HITCH

EASIEST 3-POINT HOOK-UP YOU EVER SAW

THE NEW LOW-COST TWO-PLOW "VAC" CASE TRACTOR

Tractors equipped with a new 3-point hitch and hydraulic implement control have been put on display. With this new "Eagle Hitch," a plow or any one of a variety of rear-mounted "latch-on" implements can be hitched or unhitched in a minute or so, with no need for the driver to get off the tractor seat.

The new hydraulic control is "practically fool-proof," since it is not subject to air locks and is entirely independent of clutch and power take-off. Mounted on the engine, the self-priming pump operates whenever the engine is running. Implements may be raised and lowered regardless of whether the tractor is traveling or standing in gear or out. The hydraulic fluid supply is never a problem, because the unit uses ordinary motor oil.

A single control lever near the driver's right hand raises and lowers any "latch-on" implement. The design of the "Eagle Hitch" itself keeps the implement working at uniform depth in spite of rough ground or hard or soft spots in the field. A short movement of the control lever will change implement settings to meet unusual field conditions without stopping or slowing the tractor. A handy turnbuckle sets plow depth for normal operation.

The low-cost two-plow "VAC" Case tractors now carry the new hitch and hydraulic control as regular equipment. We also will have plows and other "latch-on" implements of types used in this area.

Gettysburg college sports fans will be offered a wrestling twin bill here Saturday afternoon and a freshman basketball double-header in the evening.

At 2 o'clock the college freshman grapplers tangle with Mercersburg academy in their opening match of the season and it will be followed immediately by the varsity-Penn. Military college meet.

Coach Clyde Cole today revealed the probable lineup for his yearling outfit as follows: 121, Don Woods, brother of Jimmy Woods of the varsity; 128, Richard Rabenstein, former Hanover high star; 136, Bob Moore; 145, Bob Miller, of Waynesboro; 155, Rob or Hoskins; 165, Jim Spangler, Bedford; 175, Al Hersberger, cousin of Bob Hersberger of the varsity, and heavyweight, Trout. Only Woods, Rabenstein, Spangler and Hersberger have had previous experience.

Varsity Meets PMC
Following the freshman engagement the varsity will go after its fourth win in five starts at the expense of PMC. Not much is known of the Cadets from Chester but they are expected to give the Bullets a stiff workout. Bob Hersberger has recovered from a shoulder muscle injury to give the locals full strength. Russ Reigle, 155, unbeaten ace for Gettysburg, will be after his 55th straight win which covers his prep and Pennington Prep records in addition to his collegiate performances.

On Saturday evening Johnny Yocum's first and second string freshman basketball teams will meet Mercersburg academy, the first game starting at 7 o'clock. Mercersburg dashed out a double setback to the Bullets last Saturday at Mercersburg.

Meet Leopards
"Hen" Bream will take his varsity to Easton to meet the strong Lafayette hoopers Saturday night.

Also slated for Saturday is the Gettysburg-University of Delaware swimming meet at Newark, Del. Coach Jack Shamline's Bullets have dropped their first two engagements.

Frostburg, Md., Jan. 13 (AP)—Former Lightweight Champion Sammy Angott and Jack Laken, his manager, were injured last night in an automobile collision on an icy mountain road near here. Harold (Baby Face) Jones, another boxer riding with them, was uninjured.

Laken was hurt seriously. At Miner's hospital here, doctors reported he had a possible fracture of the back, a hip injury and several fractured ribs. Angott hurt his hip and bumped his head when he and Jones were thrown from their automobile after their car skidded into another vehicle, state police reported. Angott was to return to the hospital today for x-rays.

The Biglerville reserves also won the preliminary game 42-31. A field goal by Ebel Miller in the last eight seconds of play gave New Oxford a 34-33 victory over York Springs on the latter's floor. Miller tabbed 19 points during the contest.

The York Springs reserves took the preliminary affair 36-25. East Berlin bowed to Boiling Springs 25-23 at East Berlin in another closely contested game. The home team was again without the services of Ruthanna Stambaugh, lone veteran from last year, who is nursing an injured ankle.

In the preliminary game the East Berlin reserves won easily 35-23.

"Bushers" Vote To Keep Bonus Rule

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 13 (AP)—Despite major league opposition, the controversial bonus rule will remain a part of organized baseball law.

The minor leagues, in a country-wide ballot, decreed today the rule should be retained. The majors, at their recent meeting, voted repeal of the much-debated regulation, but today's action by the "bushers" nullified the major league decision.

George M. Trautman, red-haired president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, said 25 of the minor league voted to retain the bonus rule, while 33 leagues opposed it and one passed its vote.

Three-fourths of the 59 minor leagues had to oppose the bonus to oust the rule from the books. At the recent minor league meeting in Baltimore 32 leagues voted for repeal of the law, while 26 opposed repeal.

Today's vote, in which the minors reaffirmed their stand, was requested after the majors had declined to concur in the previous bush league action.

CINCINNATI NOT HEADING FOR 7TH PLACE IN 1950

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Jan. 13 (AP)—The eyes of Texas will be on the Cincinnati Reds this spring.

Three of the Texas League's brightest stars of '49—pitcher Frank Smith, outfielder Russ Burns and first baseman Joe Adcock—will be among the outstanding newcomers at the Reds' training camp next March.

Also among the new faces in Tampa, Fla., will be veterans Ron Northey and Lou Klein, obtained from the St. Louis Cards last December in exchange for outfielder Harry Walker and a player to be named at a future date.

Going To Stand Higher
Satisfied that Cincinnati got the best of it in its only winter deal, Luke Sewell, the new manager, is confident that the Reds will not be another seventh place team in '50.

The rosy reports on Smith, Burns and Adcock have made Sewell eager to get a glimpse of these Texas luminaries. Smith, a 21-year-old lad from Watertown, N. Y., won 17 games for Tulsa and had an earned run mark of 2.39.

Burns and Adcock were Smith's teammates at Tulsa. Burns, a right-handed hitting outfielder compiled a .338 batting average and was the loop's RBI leader with 153. He cracked 27 home runs.

Adcock, a rangy, powerful speedster from Louisiana State university is expected to give Ted Kluszewski a whale of a battle for the regular first base berth.

Perkowski Back

Another youngster who will get a thorough test is Harry Perkowski, the southpaw who turned in several well-pitched games for the Reds in the waning weeks of the last campaign. He joined the Reds in September after winning 14 and losing 12 for Syracuse in the International League.

Also returning for another chance are Johnny Hecki, righthanded pitcher and Bobby Usher, outfielder. Hecki, who had been with the Reds in '45, '46 and '47, had a 16-14 record at Syracuse last year and Usher wound up with a 289 mark with the same team.

Then there are Sammy Meeks, an infielder; Hobie Landrith, a 19-year-old catcher and Wally Post, a 20-year-old outfielder. Meeks, another Syracuse grad, batted .306 in 16 games for the Reds last September. Landrith, a Michigan State alumnus, hit .250 for Charleston in his first pro year and Post batted .238 at Columbia after switching from the mound to the outfield.

Bing Crosby's 9th Tournament Opens

Pebble Beach, Calif., Jan. 13 (AP)—Bing Crosby's ninth annual $10,000 invitational golf tournament opens here today with most of the nation's top golfers entered.

The competitors comprise 75 amateurs and 75 professionals. Nineteen vacancies on the pro side were filled in qualifying rounds yesterday.

For Ben Hogan, who has started a comeback campaign in spectacular fashion, the tournament will provide a second big test. He tried Sam Snead for first place in the Los Angeles open Tuesday.

The Crosby-Ben won it last year—will be played over three courses. It opens at Cypress Point today, goes to Monterey peninsula tomorrow and winds up at rugged, hilly Pebble Beach Sunday.

The amateur side includes many prominent men from the entertainment and sports world. Among them are Leo Durocher, Lefty O'Doul, Ralph Kiner, Bob Lemon and Jimmy Dykes, all well known to baseball fans; and Bing's movie colony guests, Johnny Weissmuller, Richard Arlen, Forrest Tucker, Dennis O'Keefe, Randolph Scott and Frank Borzage.

Parathion, a new insecticide, is so dangerous to man that it is not recommended for general use.

FLYING ARROW REACHES PORT OF TSINGTAO

Aboard Flying Arrow, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Flying Arrow steamed into the communist port of Tsingtao today after bidding farewell to its U. S. destroyer escort eight miles out.

For at least the next week the American freighter will lie here repairing the damage of a shelling by a Chinese Nationalist gunboat. The warship attacked when this ship tried to enter the Yangtze where the voyage to blockaded Shanghai.

(Richardson's dispatch was filed as the ship was preparing to dock. Then he sent an informative message saying the ship's transmitter would be off the air while in port.)

The communists keep a tight control on all communications.

The U. S. destroyer Bausell had sailed alongside the damaged Flying Arrow on the 350-mile voyage from the point off the Yangtze where the gunboat shelled her Monday.

Uneventful Voyage
As the Bausell turned to steam away, Capt. David Jones of the Flying Arrow sent off a message to the destroyer's commander, Jones thanked him for a job well done.

The voyage northward was without incident. There was no trace of Nationalist gunboats. (The Nationalists say their port closure—they don't call it a blockade—extends to all Communist ports. Apparently, however, they are unable to operate effectively as far north as Tsingtao.)

Jones had decided not to further endanger the ship by waiting around the Yangtze for a chance to slip into Shanghai. He said there was danger that the swelling of water-soaked

Littlestown Preaching Mission Speaker Entertained

The Rev. Dr. Charles E. Schaeffer, Philadelphia, who has been conducting the preaching mission in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown, under the auspices of the Littlestown Ministerium, had the Hotel Gettysburg as his headquarters for the week. He was the dinner guest of a number of the ministers during his stay in the community. On Monday night, he was the dinner guest of the Rev. and Mrs. David S. Kammerer, West King street; on Tuesday night, he was the dinner guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Leeming at the Hoffman orphanage. He spoke briefly to the children of the orphanage during the dinner. Tonight, he will be the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles B. Rebert, West King street, Littlestown, and on Saturday morning, he expects to return to Philadelphia.

Damage to Cargo
The Nationalist shelling set off a fire in the hold. It was there that the most damage to cargo was done. The cargo in the hold is cotton, rubber and caustic soda.

While the 12 passengers and crew of 43 came through the baptism of fire without injury, a summing up of crew experiences shows there were some narrow escapes.

Captain Jones himself and Second Officer Frank Gross probably had the narrowest one. With fire practically encircling them, they heaved a bullet pierced drum of gasoline over the side. One spark and the drum would have exploded.

guest of the Rev. and Mrs. John C. Brumbach, East King street. Wednesday evening he was entertained at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth D. James, West King street, when the Rev. and Mrs. Charles B. Rebert and the Rev. and Mrs. Harvey B. Simons and son, William, of town, were also guests.

Thursday noon, he was the guest of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Howard Schley Fox, Gettysburg, and on Thursday evening, he was entertained by the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Leeming at the Hoffman orphanage. He spoke briefly to the children of the orphanage during the dinner. Tonight, he will be the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles B. Rebert, West King street, Littlestown, and on Saturday morning, he expects to return to Philadelphia.

DR. SCHAEFFER PREACHES ON COMING REVIVAL

"The Coming Religious Revival" based on Psalm 85:6, "Wilt thou not revive us again: that the people may rejoice?" was the theme of the sermon by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Schaeffer, Philadelphia, for the fifth of the preaching mission services, Thursday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran church, sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium. In spite of the inclement weather, the auditorium was again almost filled.

"Although there is more money in the churches today than ever before; more money expended for benevolence and overseas relief, and more money going into church buildings today than ever before, the church is not facing a revival, but a slump," Dr. Schaeffer said. He gave three reasons for current conditions. "The first reason," he said, "is nationalism. Ever since 1914, nationalism has acquired momentum until today it is one of the supreme issues of the world. Nationalism is not patriotism, but it is the undue exaltation of the state, making it the supreme entity in society. The second reason for the appalling situation in which the church finds itself is materialism," the speaker continued. "Too many people are putting things first. Gold is our God. Too many are seeking money, gold, goods and things. A third and a very powerful cause is humanism," he said. Humanism, he defined, "as making man the center of life. Everything that is done is for man—God and the things that belong to God are barred."

Revival Possible
After describing the reasons as to why a religious revival is necessary, he told his audience how to make this revival possible. "We must have a new conception of the church and of what church-going and church membership means," he said. "The church is the incarnated Christ. As the Father and Christ are one, so Christ and the church must be one. If we want Christ, we must have his church also."

Continuing he said: "We must have a new conception of the services and the sacraments of the church. We must be more earnest and passionate about the church. The enthusiasm and spirit that we find at a football game must be evidenced in the church. With the same zeal and enthusiasm we must hold the line for the church and fight her enemies."

Finally he said: "Personal Evangelism" is necessary. The members of the early church were witnesses. We must cultivate their zeal in winning others to Christ. Parents can't expect their children to be Christian, unless they themselves have taken the stand for Christ and reveal by their life that they belong to him. Let us pray for the coming revival."

The service was conducted by the Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church. Psalm 72 was read responsively and the Rev. Mr. James read the 12th chapter of Romans as the evening lesson. Special music was furnished by the Littlestown Men's chorus who sang "Deep River" and "Onward Christian Soldiers," both Fred Waring arrangements. They were directed by L. Robert Snyder and Mrs. J. Robert Sell served as pianist. The congregational singing was led by the St. Paul's choir, with Mrs. Karl Bankert presiding at the console of the organ. "The Great Invitation" will be the theme of the concluding sermon tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

LEGION WOMEN HOLD MEETING

In observance of "National Security Month" a paper was read on that subject by Mrs. James Fager at the monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, Wednesday evening in the post home, East King street.

Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar read a letter of thanks from the orphan which the auxiliary is sponsoring at the Scotland orphanage for the birthday and Christmas gifts. The auxiliary voted a contribution of $5 to the "March of Dimes."

Mrs. Joseph Long, coupon chairman, gave a list of coupons and labels to those present, which are to be turned in to her and in turn sent to the department. Proceeds will be used toward the completion of the grandstand at the Coatsville Veterans' hospital.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. James Fager. Mrs. F. J. Will presented the secretary's report and Mrs. Wilbur Mackley the treasurer's report. Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses following the meeting. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, February 8, when the hostesses will be Mrs. Richard Long, Mrs. Pius Pautenis and Mrs. William Yingling.

Acheson Reports Russia Carving Up China; Renews Policy Defense Today

FACES SENATE GROUP BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson, after reporting that Russia is gobbling up big chunks of China, today waded into the fourth straight day of his defense of administration foreign policy.

He faced the Senate Foreign Relations committee to answer behind closed doors another round of questions dealing mainly with the United States government's position in Formosa and elsewhere in the troubled Far East.

Before Acheson reached Capitol Hill, some Republicans renewed their moves to get a review of the Pacific strategic situation from the military leaders.

Asks For Chiefs Of Staff
A Republican committee member said Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) will be asked formally during the day to summon Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

A report to the House Foreign Affairs committee from an aide on its staff says the Chinese Nationalists might be able to hold out on the island of Formosa six to 18 months without U.S. help.

The report, by C. B. Marshall, former Harvard instructor, makes no specific recommendation as to whether the U.S. should give or deny military aid.

Acheson said in a talk at the National Press club yesterday that the most important development in the Orient is the Russian seizure of Northern areas of China.

A salient part of his speech follows: "What is happening in China is that the Soviet Union is detaching the northern areas of China from China and is attaching them to the Soviet Union."

"This process is complete in Outer Mongolia. It is nearly complete in Manchuria and I am sure that in Inner Mongolia and in Sinkiang, there are very happy reports coming from Soviet agents in Moscow."

"I should like to suggest at any rate that this fact that the Soviet Union is taking the four northern provinces of China is the single most significant, most important fact in the relation of any foreign power with Asia. We must not undertake to defect from the Russians to our selves the righteous anger and the wrath and the hatred of the Chinese people which must develop."

"We must take the position we

CRUCIAL VOTES BY N C A A SATURDAY

New York, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Citadel has bolted, Virginia is on the verge of a break and a solid southern bloc threatened to drive a final, fatal wedge today into the National Collegiate Athletic association.

Breathing brimstone and confidence, Dixie delegates dared the NCCA, in effect, to kick out four of their neighbors accused of open violations of the sanity code.

"They can't expel them," predicted Robert R. Neyland, coach and athletic director at Tennessee. "It won't even be a fight."

The convention votes tomorrow on whether Virginia, Virginia Tech, VMI, the Citadel and three unnamed institutions should be expelled for failure to conform with the two-year-old code. It takes a two-third majority of those present to do the trick.

Members of the Southern, Southeastern and Southwest conferences lined up yesterday behind the sinners and announced they would use all their votes and influence to prevent their expulsion.

COURT DECIDES OLD QUESTION ON QUOTA LAW

Harrisburg, Jan. 13 (AP)—A court decision gave the Liquor Control board clearly defined power today to apply the license quota law to have always taken that anyone who violates the integrity of China is the enemy of China and is acting contrary to our own interest. That x x x is the first and the greatest rule in regard to the formulation of American policy toward Asia."

The call to get expert military advice from Secretary Johnson and General Bradley has been sounded most insistently by Senator Knowland (R-Calif.). He wants their views on the strategic value of Formosa—if any—in America's Pacific defense. It is the last retreat of the Chinese Nationalist government, driven off the mainland by conquering Chinese Communist armies.

Knowland, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and others want to know whether President Truman acted on the advice of his military chiefs when he announced his hands-off Formosa policy. The President said last week this country will not give military aid to the defenders of Formosa.

FORMER 'MISS AMERICA' IS BUSY—Jean Bartel, 1946 "Miss America," sings at the "Trocadero" in Milan, Italy, between night club appearances and a film role in Paris.

private clubs throughout Pennsylvania.

A ruling by the State Supreme court ended a 10-year controversy as to whether clubs were included or exempt from the 1939 act limiting retail licenses, except hotels, to one for each 1,000 population.

The Liquor Control board ruled, when the law became effective, that clubs were included in the quota law. Some county courts on appeals agreed with the board, others took the opposite stand. The Superior court ruling decided the question on a state-wide basis.

What It Means
The board, until 1949, had been unable to obtain a state-wide decision because it lacked authority to appeal decisions of county courts.

The question provoked heated debates in the Legislature. The Assembly finally, at the last session, granted the board the right to appeal.

"The decision, on a whole," said David R. Perry, member of the board, "means that all county courts will be required to refuse licenses to clubs, on appeal, if the quota is exceeded in their county."

He said the ruling will not affect clubs now holding licenses but that future licenses would be refused to clubs where the quota is exceeded in that community.

Never Ruled On In Adams
"We're very much pleased because it (the decision) settles a question in which the courts have not been in accord for a number of years," commented Deputy General Horace A. Seigelbaum, assigned to the Liquor Control board. "We now will have the uniformity in enforcing the law that we've sought for many years."

The decision will have an immediate effect in 19 counties. County courts ruled that clubs were exempt from the quota law in Armstrong, Berks, Cameron, Cambria, Clinton, Elk, Forest, Greene, Lockswanna, Luzerne, Lebanon, Montour, Northampton, Schuylkill, Somerset, Warren, Washington, and Westmoreland counties. The issue was never decided in Adams, Centre, Clarion, Fulton, Juniata, Perry, Pike, Potter, Tioga and Union counties.

ASK GOP COMPROMISE

Tunkhannock, Pa., Jan. 12 (AP)—Republican chairmen from seven northeastern counties are demanding the state committee work out a compromise ticket agreeable to all factions "which will assure a successful campaign at the general election." State GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor told the group at a meeting yesterday he "feels certain harmony within the party will be restored before the May primary."

"FASHIONED for every taste—Priced for every BUDGET"

Look over the 1950 Buick line, which these two high-fashioned honeys represent, and decide for yourself if that's truth or just talk.

Nineteen—Yes, 19—smart new and varied models to choose from, and all with the eye-catching styling of bold-lined bumper-guard grilles, sleek tapering fenders, the over-all look of a jet plane in flight.

Three full series—SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER—with SPECIAL models available in both standard or de luxe finish.

Three separate power plants—in five horsepower ratings—all more powerful, higher in compression, all Fireball valve-in-heads—and one of them, the sensational new F-263, giving SUPER models extra brilliance on the road.

Four wheelbases—all planned for riding comfort—with overhang reduced to make parking and garaging easier. Roominess galore, with rear seats as much as 13 inches wider.

Plenty of outlook as well. And the abiding comfort of coil springs on all four wheels. And the steady going of torque-tube drive—plus Safety-Ride rims for comfort plus control.

Then look at prices—do they really fit any budget?

They range from the fine-car level of the ROADMASTER down to just-above-the-lowest figures on the SPECIAL. But even these are so little above anything else—buy you so many more years of happy use—and give you a car of such consistently-better trade-in value—that you'll find Buick reachable by buyers in any price range.

So why not get the whole story, price and all, from your Buick dealer now? Deliveries are good, the "deal" is right, and a signed-up order steps you up to that Buick you've always dreamed about!

Here's the Smart SPECIAL 3-Passenger Coupe, one of seven smart models. Dynaflo Drive optional. Horsepower—115 with Synchro-Mesh transmission, 122 with Dynaflo.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
INTEREST IN DOING

All about us are spurs to our interest. On my way to work I stopped and watched a great shovel scooping up half a load of dirt for a deep foundation. Both machine and men worked in harmony. And back in a little room were other men studying the plans for the foundation and future structure.

I walk into the reading room of a great library and note hundreds of people silently reading—full of interest in what they are absorbing as they bend over their books. It is inspiring to see people interested in improving their minds, giving to them a broader knowledge of life and events.

It is always inspiring to watch anyone at work, where that person shows interest and enthusiasm in what is being done. There is a famous place in my city where nothing but omelettes are served, and it is a delight to see how they are made before your eyes! People flock to that place, largely I think, to see just how expertly that dish is prepared.

Do anything differently better, and people will hasten to see just how you do it. There is interest to the conception and creation of everything. Nature is filled with a multitude of unexplained wonders. From the seed, or nut in the ground, to the beautiful tree is all mystery, but every step reveals new interests. At a friend's home, a flower was pointed out to me that bloomed only during the night-time. I was intrigued, and sat and watched buds unfold.

There is no interest in static things. There is a thrill to things done. There is beauty to a single tool, but there is endless interest in what that tool does in some completed thing. There is no interest in an idler. An intriguing design to a book jacket is often the very thing that gives it a sale.

It's things to do that give growth and interest to a child. The more we put of ourselves into what we do, the greater is the interest that we acquire in what we do. Without interest in what we do, little, if anything, can be achieved.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Things That Stimulate."

Sunday School Lesson

FELLOWSHIP IN THE EARLY CHURCH
Howard E. Gold, D.D.
Margaret C. Gold
Acts 2:42-47; 4:31-35

Memory Selection: "Now the company of those who believed were of one heart and soul, and no one said that any of the things which he possessed was his own." Acts 4:32.

With the Holy Spirit giving power to the waiting disciples in such a manner and such measure as not known before; and with their confidence and activities stimulated we find the church of Christ emerging. In the lesson for today we learn why and how the early church was so substantial. The gist of it is that the founders were a fellowship of believers who applied their faith with sincerity.

Fellowship In The Church
"They continued steadfastly in the apostles' teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of bread and the prayers." In these essential observances they engaged as a group. The disciples were taught by word-of-mouth and the teaching continued in that manner. We remember that nothing was written. All that came later. So the school established by Jesus went on and with increased application by his followers. In the early church the "breaking of bread" was a part of a meal, usually the evening meal. At the end the host would take bread and break it after the manner of Jesus, and give of it to the believers. The wine also was given. In later years certain abuses crept into this practice and was discontinued. Praying, that essential element in the church and in life, was engaged in by the assembled believers. Corporate praying we often call it now.

Here then, we have the foundation stones of the early church: the teaching and acceptance of essential truths, the Holy Communion, prayer; and all the while members of this founding group of believers, especially Peter and John, went out among the people, preached fearlessly and performed miracles. That they were abused and arrested did not matter to them nor deter them. We are given a word picture of a happy, mutually helpful and growing church family. Any congregation looking for a formula to rebuild an effective church will find it given here. The early Christians went regularly to church (the temple), practised the "breaking of bread" with "gladness" and saw to it that, at home, took their simple meals all were supplied "as any man had need." No wonder that observers found these Christians joyful and their way of life attractive. And when such observers learned that the source of this joy and hope grew out of what Jesus had taught, and his followers believed and practised, they took note. "And the Lord added to them day by day."

Fellowship In The Early Church
A woman, looking for a congregation with which to unite was asked why she did not join the one near her home remarked, "No, there is always contention in that church." Harmonious fellowship is one of the most attractive features of any church. Men in earnest about their religious life seek friendliness in the spirit that Jesus was friendly. There are other factors that draw people to a church, but the simple gladness and the evident sincerity, like that of the founders of the church, are the most attractive qualities. The modern church has a vast responsibility, conditions of the world being what they are. This calls for a strong church; which in turn calls for a higher quality of ministry and membership alike. The early church can teach us. Their joy in redemption was complete.

The Fellowship Of Sharing
Prominent among the features of early church life was the practice of sharing of what one had with those in need. As if for emphasis it is mentioned twice in our lesson. There was a kind of community living with a common treasury. This must not be mistaken for communism. The custom of sharing grew out of a sincere love for God and for man and was voluntary. Communism, as we know it in our time, is quite different.

At first this practical benevolence was among the believers. But it could not be confined and later spread to others found in want. This manifestation of love, both spiritual and practical, impressed observers—especially pagan observers. Such selfless love had not been known. The commandment of love which Jesus gave was the most powerful weapon for defense and offense the early church had. One pagan philosopher said: "Behold, how they love one another," and another wrote: "They love even those whom they do not know."

Modern Christianity is sharing to a high degree. Food, clothing and medicine are streaming to those desolated by war. Displaced persons are helped to find new homes. May Christ's appeal for love be answered still more effectively.

Where cross the crowded ways of life,
Where sound the cries of race and clan,
Above the noise of selfish strife,
We hear Thy voice, O Son of man.

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
Last Survivor Expires: In recent years all who were on the rostrum 71 years ago when President Abraham Lincoln made his famous speech in the National cemetery, have passed away. Only one remained. She was Mrs. M. O. (Louisa Vandersloot) Smith, of Hanover, formerly of Gettysburg.

As the last survivor of those who participated in the dedication of the cemetery, Mrs. Smith enjoyed nationwide fame. She was feted and honored by four presidents, the National GAR and other individuals and groups. She returned to Gettysburg every Memorial Day when a President of the United States came here to speak.

On December 28, while visiting her niece, Mrs. Charles Laine, of Charleston, W. Va., Mrs. Smith fell and fractured a hip. Her advanced age, 86 years and seven months, was a contributing factor in her vain fight to regain her health. Mrs. Smith died at the Lang home Monday night.

Young People Give Comedy: Before a large and appreciative audience, members of the Young People's council of the first district of the Adams County Council of Religious Education presented a three-act comedy, "Tea Toper Tavern," in the chapel of St. James Lutheran church Tuesday evening.

The principal speaker for the memorial service will be Dr. Leon C. Prince, a member of the state senate and Prothonotary S. L. Allison, president of the county Firemen's association. Will preside George D. Sneeley will introduce Doctor Prince.

Firemen who will be memorialized include Charles K. Perry, Guy Marwick, U. S. Kleinfeiler, Vincent B. Orndorff, William A. Noel, Thomas McLaughlin, George F. Jacobs, Roy McMaster, Michael K. Amelia Earhart Spans Pacific: Los Angeles, Jan. 14 (AP)—The conqueror of the Pacific ocean, Amelia Earhart, Putman, flew here Sunday from Oakland, California, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Amy O. Earhart.

Immediately after alighting Miss Earhart ordered that her plane be refueled and declared she would continue to Washington Sunday night.

Just Folks
By EDGAR A. GUEST
THE HARD LIFE

The sister of a healthy boy
Has much to suffer and endure.
Her girlhood's not one round of joy.
Of safety she is never sure.

The little maiden fair and trim
That others proudly look upon.
A tackling dummy is to him
Which he can use to practice on.

She may be in her prettiest frock,
For Sunday school or party bound.
No matter! Round her waist he'll lock
His arms and toss her to the ground.

Security for her? Oh, no!
She risks disaster all day through.
I rather think she likes it though,
And doesn't mind a bump or two.

not let anyone talk you into taking a snap course. You want to take part in athletics at college, but you want to leave college with the ability to make something of yourself. You can play football at college and take the easy courses. But when you come out you will have nothing; you will be no better prepared to make a living than you were before. If you want to succeed you must work hard—and that goes for lessons in schools as well as football."

Attorney Donald M. Swope was toastmaster for the dinner given as a tribute to the local high school teams for their sportsmanship.

Paul Whitmoyer gave the invocation. Dwight Speaker, representing Gettysburg college, praised the high school players for their record during the past year. Introduced were high school coaches George Forney, Howard Shoemaker and Rogers Herr, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver and Principal Guile W. Leffer.

DENHAM SPEECH TOUCHES OFF NLRB TENSION

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—It's a beautiful explosion among the government officials who run the Taft-Hartley labor law.
On one side are the members of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB); on the other the chief attorney for the board.
The explosion was done last night by Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the NLRB which is supposed to be impartial in settling disputes between unions and employers.
In a New York speech he made a strong attack on the board. He accused a majority of the board members of favoring unions over employers.
In 1947, when the Republicans controlled Congress, they replaced the Wagner act with the Taft-Hartley act. T-H kept the NLRB but the job of general counsel was created, independent of the board. This job Denham got. He was appointed by the President and approved by the Senate, just as the board members are.
Denham's job, under T-H was and is very important:
1. The NLRB can order an election among a firm's employees to determine whether they want a certain union to represent them. Then they turn over to Denham the job of seeing that the order is carried out. If for any reason he refuses, the board can order him to do it any way. Then he has to:
2. But—any time a union or an employer thinks the other side has violated the law by being unfair, the complaint goes to Denham, not the board.

If he decides the complaint isn't worthwhile, that ends it. His decision is final. The board can't consider the complaint. If he thinks the complaint has merit, then he can let the board hear it and give a decision. This gives Denham tremendous power.
There are now four board members: James Reynolds, John M. Houston, Chairman Paul M. Herzog, and Abe Murdock. All but Murdock were board members when there was still a Wagner act. Murdock was appointed after T-H. (There's a fifth position, not now filled.)
Relations Deteriorating
For months Denham's relations with the board members have been going down hill. His term ends in December, 1951. Informed people here doubt that President Truman, who wants T-H wiped out, will reappoint him.
In Congress there are several important bills to change T-H or wipe it out. These bills, even one supported by the backers of T-H, would wipe out Denham's job. But Congress has not passed any of them and is unlikely to this year.
Meanwhile, the question is: How can the NLRB operate now with such a split between the board members and their chief attorney?

WOMAN BALKS AT BONUSES FOR COACHING STAFF

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 13 (AP)—The only woman on the New Castle school board is waging a fight to prevent payment of bonuses to the high school's football coaches.
"I think the coaches are paid enough already," Mrs. Elizabeth Kleckner said. "We should be thinking more about spending money to improve education in New Castle." Mrs. Kleckner's statement came after she balked at approving bonuses for Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and his staff.
The athletic committee of the school board recommended a $200 bonus for Bridenbaugh as a "gesture of appreciation." He's been football coach at the school since 1922 and his teams have lost only three of 34 games the past three seasons. In 1948 and 1949 his eleven won the class AA championship of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Football league.
"Need Better Schools"
The athletic committee suggested Bridenbaugh's three assistant coaches get a $150 bonus apiece. And it wanted the band director to receive the same amount with $100 to go to the faculty manager and equipment director. After Mrs. Kleckner's objection, the matter was tabled until next month.
Mrs. Kleckner told the board that athletes are a "sore spot with me," adding: "I am for athletics but not the way we do it here. They tell me the stadium and athletic costs come out of athletic gate receipts but no one has ever broken them down to show me. What we need is better schools and less athletics."
"The schools in New Castle are in terrible condition. We need three new buildings immediately. The money shouldn't have been spent on the stadium in the first place. We have a perfect football field but our schools are far from perfect. I have six children who have attended the New Castle schools and I know what I'm talking about. We should de-emphasize our athletic program and emphasize our educational one."

Eberharter Name Won't Go In Again

Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—Rep. Herman P. Eberharter (D-Pa.), whose nomination for federal judge was opposed by the American Bar association, has asked President Truman not to submit his name to the Senate again.
After visiting Mr. Truman yesterday, Eberharter issued this statement: "I have reached this difficult decision by reason of the vicious, malicious and unfounded attacks made on me by large and selfish corporate interests."
Eberharter was named by President Truman last spring to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of U. S. District Judge R. M. Gibson in the western Pennsylvania district.
A Senate judiciary subcommittee took no action on the nomination after a number of sensational hearings at which Eberharter was accused of drunkenness and of otherwise being unfit.

Says Behavior Of Students Forecasts Weather Changes

Kane, Pa., Jan. 13 (AP)—Principal Paul R. Miller of the Kane high school says his teachers have come up with a new way of predicting storms and heavy weather. All they have to do is note the behavior of their students.
"A careful study over a period of years has disclosed a high correlation between behavior in school and the pressure around us," said Miller. "When the air pressure is high, little Willie is docile and cooperative and even the teacher is calm and placid."
Then Miller grinned and added: "Let the barometer fall and little Mary Jane sticks out her tongue at Marcella, who dissolves into tears or snacks Mary Jane. Willie begins to pull the girls' hair and teacher hits the ceiling."
In the old days, such action might have caused $30,000 damage. Located four miles north of Potomac the warehouse was empty. Lindauer, who estimated the loss, said he had not determined the origin of the blaze.

Pottstown Blazes Cause Heavy Damage

Pottstown, Pa., Jan. 13 (AP)—Fires in the Hill school and in a fruit warehouse caused damage estimated at $60,000.
A blaze broke out last night in the auditorium of Memorial hall at the Hill school. Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer estimated the loss at $25,000. He said the fire started in the wall on the stage, apparently from defective wiring.
The fruit warehouse, owned by Walter Hampton, was destroyed by

Withdraw Application

Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Eastern National Gas Corp. has received permission of the Power Commission to withdraw its application for a proposed $28,000,000 natural gas line. Last June 30, the company asked permission to build 292 miles of main 24-inch line and about 200 miles of lateral lines from near Phoenixville, Pa., to an eastern terminus near Boston.

PUSH PLANS TO JOIN TURNPIKES

Harrisburg, Jan. 12 (AP)—A straight high-speed highway across Ohio and Pennsylvania may be realized in the near future.

James W. Shocknessy, Columbus, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, told a reporter here that his group hopes to move with "aggressiveness and speed" as soon as legal complications are cleared away. "Despite some feeling to the contrary, it is almost a certainty that the best economic use of the nation's transportation system can be attained by joining the Pennsylvania and Ohio turnpikes," Shocknessy said.

Shocknessy and other members of the Ohio commission conferred here Tuesday with Chairman T. J. Evans and other members of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission on mutual plans centered around the junction of the two super highways. The 67-mile western extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike to the

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE! BUT IT'S TRUE! IT'S ANOTHER TIDE MIRACLE!

A DAZZLING CLEAN WASH WITHOUT RINSING!

"NO MORE RINSING FOR ME!"

says Mrs. Elizabeth Davis OF PORTSMOUTH, OHIO

"I didn't believe Tide could do it... till I tried it! But it's true! I took the clothes right out of those wonderful Tide suds and put them through the wringer and onto the line. And, believe me, they looked so bright and clean—I was proud to hang them up!"

"I took my wash out of the Tide suds—wring it out—and hung it up CLEAN! I'll never rinse again!"

says Mrs. M. Hayes OF WEHAWKEN, NEW JERSEY

"Tide now makes possible an amazing new kind of washday—quick and easy, almost beyond belief. Just think of all the time I'm going to save... without rinsing! And think of the wear and tear it saves on my clothes as well as on me! Thank you, Tide, for the biggest washday miracle of all!"

says Margaret Lockwood OF INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

"Talk about miracles! I take my clothes out of Tide's wonder suds, wring them out, and the dirt runs right out with the wash-water just as they say it does! And what a beautiful wash... fresh, clean, and sweet-smelling without rinsing at all! It dries soft, fluffy, easy to iron. From now on, it's Tide—and only Tide—for me!"

TIDE cuts washday work in half!

No more rinsing!

Just wash... wring out... hang up!

YES, another Tide miracle has been discovered—and it's the washday news of the mid-century! With Tide in your washing machine—you can take your clothes right out of the suds... put them through the wringer and hang them on the line dazzling clean! Without rinsing! Hard to believe? Yes, but when you use Procter & Gamble's Tide, it's a fact—and women all over America are proving it today.

HERE'S WHY! Tide, with its miracle suds, gets the dirt out of your clothes and keeps it suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater... and the clothes come from the wringer white... fresh... CLEAN!

YES, CLEAN! You all know how clean Tide has always washed your clothes with rinsing. Actually cleaner than any other washing product you can buy. Now we'd like you to try Tide without rinsing and compare the results. It's simply unbelievable how bright, fresh and clean you can get your wash with Tide, without rinsing. And think of the time and work you save! So try Tide without rinsing! If you do, you'll never use anything but Tide again!

No other washing product known can match TIDE for getting out dirt and soap film, too

FOR THE WORLD'S EASIEST WASHDAY... TRY TIDE WITHOUT RINSING!
